Financial Literacy Education Chris Arthur, 2012-10-13 Consumer financial literacy education often appears as a helpful commonsense solution to neoliberalism and the individualization of responsibility for economic risk. However, in Financial Literacy Education, Neoliberalism, the Consumer, and the Citizen, this particular literacy is argued to be both ineffective and unjust. Socially created poverty, unemployment, and economic insecurity require more than individual consumer solutions; they require collective responses by engaged critical citizens. Utilizing concepts from Marx, Foucault, Bourdieu, and Baudrillard, this book challenges those who claim that there is no alternative to neoliberal insecurity and reduce education to a consumerist training of entrepreneurial consumer citizens who can continually invest in themselves and the market. Through an analysis of consumer financial literacy education's present and historical supports as well as its likely effects, this book argues that the choice before us is not financial illiteracy or financial literacy. Rather, the choice is between subjugation to the requirements of perpetual competition or overcoming alienation, insecurity, and exploitation. The critical financial literacy education outlined at the end of this book supports this. This book will appeal to those interested in understanding the conditions of our freedom in an increasingly financialized world: critical educators, philosophers, and sociologists of education and financial literacy researchers.

The Handbook of Contemporary Cambodia Katherine Brickell, Simon Springer, 2016-09-13 Offering a comprehensive overview of the current situation in the country, The Handbook of Contemporary Cambodia provides a broad coverage of social, cultural, political, and economic development within both rural and urban contexts during the last decade. A detailed introduction places Cambodia within its global and regional frame, and the handbook is then divided into five thematic sections: Political and Economic Tensions, Rural Developments, Urban Conflicts, Social Processes, and Cultural Currents. The first section looks at the major political implications and tensions that have occurred in Cambodia as well as the changing parameters of its economic profile. The handbook then highlights the major developments that are unfolding within the rural sphere before moving on to consider how cities in Cambodia and particularly Phnom Penh have become primary sites of change. The fourth section covers the major processes that have shaped social understandings of the country and how Cambodians have come to understand themselves in relation to each other and the outside world. Section five analyses the cultural dimensions of Cambodia's current experience and how identity comes into contact with and responds to other cultural themes. Bringing together a team of leading scholars on Cambodia, the handbook presents an understanding of how sociocultural and political-economic processes in the country have evolved. It is a cutting-edge and interdisciplinary resource for scholars and students of Southeast Asian Studies as well as policymakers, sociologists, and political scientists with an interest in contemporary Cambodia.

Accounting theories, practices, education and human capital formation trends, 2025-09-15 This book aims to provide empirical and conceptual insights into contemporary accounting theories, practices, education, and approaches adopted to advance human capital formation in the discipline Although new accounting practices have emerged in the modern world conceptual and empirical research that provides a holistic comprehensive understanding of these evolutions and human capital approaches used to promote capabilities formation in accounting remains scarce Contemporary research often focuses on developing a framework for integrating accounting practices while coverage of human capital development is limited Instead research strands on accountancy and human capital are growing separately without a comprehensive empirical and conceptual framework for integrating the two concepts Insights on accounting practices and human capital developments are necessary for building a holistic understanding of the two concepts and working towards adopting an interdisciplinary approach The findings in this book seek to advocate for the need to develop highly skilled generations who may meet the requisite accounting and financial capabilities required in the modern global economy This book adopts both conceptual and empirical methods to address the gap in the literature on the need for research that focuses on human capital formation in the accounting and finance discipline It contributes an interdisciplinary perspective on the intersectionality between accounting practice and the human capital formation of individuals who possess the requisite knowledge
