Papagiannopoulos, George D. Hatzigeorgiou, Dimitri E. Beskos, 2022-01-01 The book after two introductory chapters on seismic design principles and structural seismic analysis methods proceeds with the detailed description of seismic design methods for steel building structures These methods include all the well known methods like force based or displacement based methods plus some other methods developed by the present authors or other authors that have reached a level of maturity and are applicable to a large class of steel building structures For every method detailed practical examples and supporting references are provided in order to illustrate the methods and demonstrate their merits As a unique feature the present book describes not just one as it is the case with existing books on seismic design of steel structures but various seismic design methods including application examples worked in detail The book is a valuable source of information not only for MS and PhD students but also for researchers and practicing engineers engaged with the design of steel building structures Research for Educational Change Jill Adler, Anna Sfard, 2016-06-17 Research for Educational Change presents ways in which educational research can fulfil its commitments to educational practice Focussing its discussion within the context of mathematics education it argues that while research generated insights can have beneficial effects on learning and teaching the question of how these effects are to be generated and sustained is far from evident The question of how to turn research into educational improvement is discussed here in the context of learning and teaching hindered by poverty and social injustice In the first part of the book four teams of researchers use different methodologies while analysing the same corpus of data collected in a South African mathematics classroom In the second part each of these teams makes a specific proposal about what can be done and how so that its research generated insights have a tangible beneficial impact on what is happening in mathematical classrooms Combining two discourses that of researchers speaking to one another and that of researchers communicating their insights to those responsible for educational practice the book deals with the perennial question of communication between those who study educational processes and those who are directly responsible for teacher education educational research and classroom practices This book will be key reading for postgraduates researchers and academics in education and particularly in the areas of mathematics education education research teacher education and classroom practice It will also appeal to teacher educators practitioners and undergraduate students interested in educational research
