Women in American Operas of the 1950s Monica A. Hershberger, 2023 The first feminist analysis of some of the most performed works in the American opera canon emphasizing the voices and perspectives of the sopranos who brought these operas to life In the 1950s composers and librettists in the United States were busy seeking to create an opera repertory that would be deeply responsive to American culture and American concerns They did not break free however of the age old paradigm so typically expressed in European opera that is of women as either saintly and pure or sexually corrupt with no middle ground As a result in American opera of the 1950s women risked becoming once again opera's inevitable victims Yet the sopranos who were tasked with portraying these paragons of virtue and their opposites did not always take them as their composers and librettists made them Sometimes they rewrote through their performances the roles they had been assigned Sometimes they used their lived experiences to invest greater authenticity in the roles With chapters on The Tender Land Susannah The Ballad of Baby Doe and Lizzie Borden this book analyzes some of the most performed yet understudied works in the American opera canon It acknowledges Catherine Clement's famous description of opera as the undoing of women while at the same time illuminating how singers like Beverly Sills and Phyllis Curtin worked to resist such undoing years before the official resurgence of the American feminist movement In short they ended up helping to dismantle powerful gendered stereotypes that had often reigned unquestioned in opera houses until then      Loss of Faith Michael L. Varnado, D. P. Knowles-Gardner, Bruce E. Altschuler, Jaclyn Schildkraut, 2019-10-16 Lights Camera Execution: Cinematic Portrayals of Capital Punishment fills a prominent void in the existing film studies and death penalty literature Each chapter focuses on a particular cinematic portrayal of the death penalty in the United States Some of the analyzed films are well known Hollywood blockbusters such as Dead Man Walking 1995 others are more obscure such as the made for television movie Murder in Coweta County 1983 By contrasting different portrayals where appropriate and identifying themes common to many of the studied films such as the concept of dignity and the role of race and racial discrimination the volume strengthens the reader's ability to engage in comparative analysis of topics stories and cinematic techniques Written by three professors with extensive experience teaching and writing about the death penalty film studies and criminal justice Lights Camera Execution is deliberately designed for both classroom use and general readership
