Global Environmental Law Annual ,2008 Secondary Education at the Crossroads Phillip Hughes, 2006-09-23 Education is a universal priority Currently it is at a crossroad In every society it is valued as a major road to produce more productive more harmonious and healthier citizens Yet in every setting there is deep dissatisfaction with the overall performance of education and there are major moves towards reform sometimes superficial but more often fundamental. These reform processes have had only moderate and very uneven success. Too often they are episodic reflecting a short term approach which is frequently changed for the latest enthusiasm or the most recent administration. In Asia and the Pacific countries many systems are in the process of construction or reconstruction. Can we learn from the experiences of others? Given the multiplicity of efforts at reform and the variety of situations for reform there may well be lessons we can learn from each other's efforts and each other's failures and successes. This book features contributions from experienced researchers who have worked in many different settings and bring their own insights to attack this universal problem.

International Education for the Millennium Benjamin Piper, Sarah Dryden-Peterson, Young-Suk Kim, 2006. International Education has become an increasingly prominent and urgent matter in recent decades. Since the 1990 and 2000 Education for All conferences in Thailand and Senegal educational access and quality have been important parts of a global development agenda. More recently the United Nations Millennium Development Goals have called for dramatic increases in educational access and ensuring equity for those disadvantaged by national and regional power structures. International Education for the Millennium offers a detailed and comprehensive look at this vitally important field. Centrally concerned with the development of successful education systems and institutions throughout the world, the volume addresses those pressing questions about access, equity and quality that inform the field today. It also sheds light on important areas within this vast field on contemporary theoretical work and research on a range of national and international policies and on education reform in developing countries. A volume that considers international education on the global, national and local levels and that addresses theoretical, scholarly and practical matters. International Education for the Millennium offers an impressive array of ideas, perspectives and resources for scholars, policymakers and practitioners. Contributors include Kim Bush, Paulo Freire, Jesus Gomez, Alonso Jonathan, David Jansen, Margrethe Juncker, Suzanne Grant, Lewis, Marlaine E. Lockheed, Richard Maclure, Khalil Mahshi, Joanita Nambi, Julius K.

Ofreneo, 2012 Green Jobs and Green Skills in a Brown Philippine Economy is Dr Rene Ofreneo's contribution to a multicountry global study on the skills and education dimensions of the greening processes in the global economy organized by the International Labour Office and the UN Environmental Programme. As the Philippines is faced with two environmental tasks, i.e. to minimize the adverse impact of climate change through mitigation and adaptation programs and to restore its heavily degraded environment, communities and industries are encouraged to create more green jobs through the emerging green sectors, e.g. renewable energy, recycling, reforestation, etc. This book shows how a green alignment of education and training activities can support the level and skills requirements of green er industries as reflected in the case studies of a copper smelter, a fast food chain, a bioethanol plant, and an organic agriculture farm. Our Planet, 2008
