Association and Enlightenment Mark C. Wallace, Jane Rendall, 2020-12-18 Social clubs as they existed in eighteenth and early nineteenth century Scotland were varied they could be convivial sporting or scholarly or they could be a significant and dynamic social force committed to improvement and national regeneration as well as to sociability The essays in this volume examine the complex history of clubs and societies in Scotland from 1700 to 1830 Contributors address attitudes toward associations their meeting places and rituals their links with the growth of the professions and with literary culture and the ways in which they were structured by both class and gender By widening the context in which clubs and societies are set the collection offers a new framework for understanding them bringing together the inheritance of the Scottish past the unique and cohesive polite culture of the Scottish Enlightenment and the broader context of associational patterns common to Britain Ireland and beyond

Rethinking Atlantic Empire Scott Eastman, Stephen Jacobson, 2021-06-11

In recent years the historiography of nineteenth century Spain and Latin America has been invigorated by interdisciplinary engagement with scholars working on topics such as empire slavery abolition race identity and captivity No scholar better exemplified these developments than Christopher Schmidt Nowara a specialist on Spain and its Caribbean colonies in Cuba and Puerto Rico A brilliant career was cut short in 2015 when he died at the age of 48 Rethinking Atlantic Empire takes Schmidt Nowara s work as a point of departure charting scholarly paths that move past reductive national narratives and embrace transnational approaches to the entangled empires of the Atlantic world The Baltic Story Caroline

Boggis-Rolfe,2019-04-15 The Baltic Story recounts the shared history of the countries around the Baltic from the events of a thousand years ago to the present day Intersections of Gender, Class, and Race in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond Barbara Leonardi,2018-12-29 This book explores the intersections of gender with class and race in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and their fluid transformation from the Romantic to the Victorian period and beyond exposing how these cultural constructions are deeply entangled with the family metaphor For example by examining the re signification of the angel in the house and the deviant woman in the context of unstable or contingent masculinities and across discourses of class and nation the volume contributes to a more nuanced understanding of British cultural constructions in the long nineteenth century The central idea is to unearth the historical roots of the family metaphor in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and to uncover the interests served by its specific discursive formation The book explores both male and female stereotypes enabling a more perceptive comparison enriched with a nuanced reflection on the construction and social function of class The Library of Literary Criticism of English and American Authors:
