-  Outline of Week 1 Lesson Plan

The following is the order in which I typically implement these lessons:

1. Holocaust Day 1 PPT – I usually play Sounds of Silence by Simon & Garfunkel while this PPT is running. I usually begin this PPT and the music as soon as students begin to enter the room. There will be a bit of confusion at first, so I play it 2-3 times and use non-verbal cues if necessary to get students to be seated and quiet.
2. K&W columns of the KWL. The students can use information from the PPT for the K column if they knew nothing about the Holocaust before entering the room.
3. Introduction PPT and student notes
4. Escape from Solibor film and questions. I explain to the students that I begin the unit with this film so that they have an understanding of how horrible the things we're about to talk about were and that it gives me something to which I can refer while teaching. I also let them know that there are parts of the film that are difficult to watch, but it's important for us to learn about this part of history so that we might recognize the signs in the future.

Reginbogin,Christoph Johannes Maria Safferling,2006 60 years after the trials of the main German war criminals the articles in this book attempt to assess the Nuremberg Trials from a historical and legal point of view and to illustrate connections contradictions and consequences In view of constantly reoccurring reports of mass crimes from all over the world we have only reached the halfway point in the quest for an effective system of international criminal justice With the legacy of Nuremberg in mind this volume is a contribution to the search for answers to questions of how the law can be applied effectively and those committing crimes against humanity be brought to justice for their actions

Common Core Writing Prompts and Strategies ,2015-06-30 This resource connects our core work Facing History and Ourselves Holocaust and Human Behavior with writing prompts that align with the expectations of the Common Core State Standards This supplementary guide includes specific writing prompts and teaching strategies that ask students to use evidence as they craft a formal argumentative essay The resource features effective writing strategies for general use in the social studies or English classroom unit Facing History and Ourselves Holocaust and Human Behavior is a collection of primary and secondary sources that provides an interdisciplinary approach to citizenship education Students move from thought to judgment to participation as they confront the moral questions inherent in a study of violence racism antisemitism and bigotry The readings and activities explore the consequences of discrimination racism and antisemitism by holding up the tarnished mirror of history to one of the most violent times in world history the 1930s and 1940s As students read and reflect they investigate the forces that undermined democracy in Germany betrayed a generation of young people and ultimately led to the Holocaust In doing so students discover that many of those forces threaten our own society today The book then helps students discover how their decisions can make a positive difference in their community nation and the world

Methods of Teaching Preston D. Feden,Robert Mark Vogel,2003 METHODS OF TEACHING APPLYING COGNITIVE SCIENCE TO PROMOTE STUDENT LEARNING helps prospective teachers learn how to apply recent findings by cognitive scientists to their classroom practices in order to promote true conceptual change among their students The book focuses squarely on ways to bring about deep rather than surface learning to all students The authors use and model many of the teaching strategies they present focusing on major core concepts and utilizing a rich array of pedagogical features to help prospective teachers build a deep understanding of how people learn and what strategies they can use as teachers to help their students achieve long lasting comprehension Throughout the text the authors emphasize the need to change instruction in light of new findings from cognitive science Planning for instruction behavior management and technology are integrated into each chapter

Genocide, the World Wars and the Unweaving of Europe Donald Bloxham,2008 The murder of at least one million Armenian Christians in 1915 16 and of some six million Jews from 1939 45 were the most extreme instances of mass murder in the First and Second World Wars respectively This book examines the development and dynamics of both genocides While bringing out the many differences in the origins course and nature of the crimes the book argues that both need to be placed into the context of the wider violent agendas and demographic schemes of the perpetrator states In the earlier case it is important to consider the Ottoman violence against Assyrian Christians and Greek Orthodox subjects and programs of forced assimilation of non Turkish Muslim groups including many Muslims victimized by other states In the later case it is impossible to understand the development of the final solution of the Jewish question without paying attention to Nazi policy against Slavic groups the disabled and Europe s Romany population Both genocides furthermore need to be examined in the deeper contexts of the multi causal violence resulting from the collapse of the eastern and southeastern European dynastic empires from the late nineteenth century and from the establishment of new types of state in their aftermath Finally the book explains why these two major genocides occupy very different places in our contemporary memorial culture It argues that the memory politics of the Armenian genocide illustrate the very tight limits to what we can expect in the way of meaningful international concern for ongoing genocides Meanwhile the instrumentalization of the memory of the Holocaust can actually inhibit self criticism on the parts of the western states that increasingly foreground Holocaust memorial days and museums in their civic education
