Blood And Circuses An Irresponsible Memoir:

Blood and Circuses Lex Marinos, 2014-07-01 From Kingswood Country to The Slap and beyond the warm funny and surprising life of one of Australia's much loved actors and broadcasters In his early years on TV he was the wog who was always being told to Leave the money on the fridge by Ted Bullpitt in Kingswood Country And ultimately he became the majestic patriarch Manolis in The Slap Between times he attended the birth of Triple J ran the rugby league touchlines for ABC Sport was a panellist on Andrew Denton's Live Sweaty offered drolleries on Strictly Dancing and directed one of the segments at the opening ceremony of the Sydney Olympics as well as appearing in umpteen films and plays Blood and Circuses is the wry and charming story of a young Greek Australian boy whose family ran a cafe in Wagga Wagga in the 1950s and who dreamt of making his life in the theatre It is a vivid account of a life lived to the full beautifully written by a much loved Australian Sharper 1980-2013 Lowell Tarling, 2018-10-01 Martin Sharp was an integral part of international Pop Art in the 1960s magnified through his covers for OZ magazine in Sydney and London his covers for Cream and posters of Dylan Hendrix and Donovan His efforts at making The Yellow House and Luna Park cultural precincts were aided by his screen prints and exhibitions to flaunt the work of others especially the singer Tiny Tim In this second of two volumes Lowell Tarling offers us a way into the enigmatic and reclusive artist through his extensive interviews with Sharp and all of his trusted friends touching on the many dramas of life at Sharp's home studio Wirian his productions and search for meaning with regard to the Luna Park Fire his spiritual search and death in 2013 I think what Lowell has done here is admirable removing himself from the narrative This book will be of interest to a wider audience who don't even know who Martin is I predict this book will become a genuine hit Peter Kingston Migrants, Television and Australian Stories Kate Darian-Smith, Sue Turnbull, Sukhmani Khorana, Kyle Harvey, 2025-05-26 This book examines the intertwined histories of television and migration in Australia told from the perspectives of migrants who worked in the screen industry and the many more who watched television Their stories demonstrate how Australia's growing cultural diversity has challenged conventional representations of Australianness on television and how ongoing advocacy has supported the growing inclusivity of multiple narratives and diverse experiences on screen Migrants from many backgrounds were instrumental in the establishment in 1956 of Australian television working behind and in front of the cameras as producers directors writers technicians and actors From early broadcasting to the digital present portrayals of cultural differences have often been shaped by appropriation ethnic stereotyping and racism This has occurred across a range of formats from drama to comedy to news and reality shows Many in the industry have responded with resilience and creative adaptation as they have increasingly taken control of the ways that migrant stories are told and diversity is celebrated The first comprehensive Australian study of migrants and television this book considers the ways multicultural audiences have experienced the small screen over seven decades Drawing on rich oral histories it analyses the memories of television in the work school family life and leisure of migrant communities and their broader engagements with Australian culture Research in the archives of broadcasters and production companies reveals how non Anglo Australian characters were constructed and how such portrayals have shifted This new history takes us to digital screen production and consumption today exploring how Australians of many diasporas engage with the global network of screen content in the twenty first century It is essential reading for media professionals advocates students and those interested in the intersections between media cultural diversity and the nation

Creative Frictions Cecelia Cmielewski, 2021-08-17 Creative Frictions explores the relationship between visionary aspects of practice and policy Despite over 30 years of arts and cultural policy attention there remains a widespread view among the general public and artists alike that creative production does not reflect Australia s culturally diverse population Australia s increasingly complex society can no longer be confined to essentialised or traditional definitions of ethnic communities While this diversity and its emerging complexity can be celebrated as a source of creativity and innovation it can also give rise to social political and creative challenges A key challenge that remains for the arts sector is its ability to support the creative expression of cultural difference One measure of inclusive creative production is to look at the participation of artists of non English speaking backgrounds NESBs a problematic term discussed in the book There are half as many NESB artists compared to those of other professions participating in the workforce and while under representation is an issue for management in the arts sector the question of representation also benefits from being understood more broadly beyond the narrow sense of multiculturalism as a tool to manage cultural difference This book explores the crucial role of creative leaders and how they work with the mainstream while maintaining their creative integrity and independence to generate a virtuous circle of change Creative Frictions argues that it is the NESB artists who lead change in the arts sector and that creative and organisational leadership working in partnership make creative use of friction and develop the necessary trust to generate the traction for a supportive multicultural arts milieu
