

Community Service Reflection

The first time I'd ever laid eyes on a homeless person was years ago. I remember feeling a sinking type of pain in my chest, not knowing what it was. This feeling of sorrow and compassion has always been my weakness, and as I handed the poor man a dollar, he smiled at me, eyes tired but heart whole. It made me feel good to know that I'd done a good deed and now, I realize that the emotion that I had felt for that battered old man was pity. This year, I decided to volunteer at the local Global Leadership program making holiday cards, Foothill's Marching Band Review and San Francisco Youth Outreach. I chose these programs because of my fondness for art, passion for music and love to help those in need.

I believe that everyone needs to feel loved. Handmade cards are a great way to express love for those who don't normally witness it. For my first volunteering assignment, I volunteered at Global Leadership to handmade holiday cards for the less fortunate and those who do not have families. It was a great way to put my artistic skills to use and share a bit of holiday spirit at the same time.

The next program I volunteered at was for Foothill itself. Being part of the marching band this year was one of the best experiences of my life! The least I could do was help out for our home band review. I spent nearly half the day at Amador (Foothill's electricity was out) that day, hauling instruments, prepping hospitality food and picking up trash. Although tiring, I felt really proud to be able to support my band. Music has always been one of my greatest passions, I devour notes and tunes.

Lastly, I volunteered at Youth Outreach in San Francisco on Thanksgiving. Youth Outreach is a program amongst many others that provides kids in need with meals and games. I was in charge of face painting, and I was extremely excited to make the kids happy with the beautiful butterflies and animals on their faces. The experience was unreal. All of those little kids racing up to my booth, laughing and pointing to the array of designs made me feel so jubilant. They definitely made my Thanksgiving complete and I hope I did the same for them.

All in all, I am really thankful to have been able to do all of these things for my community. I think that seeing the thanks on other people's faces has made me realize how much of an influence a single person can have. These few opportunities have created a better version of myself, more caring and patient.

Mathematics in Service to the Community Charles Robert Hadlock, 2005 Publisher description This book looks at the wide variety of ways in which math statistics and math education teachers have incorporated service learning into their courses These projects are not just stand alone community service initiatives but rather they specifically target the improvement of mathematics skills and insights of the college students in the courses with which they are associated In some cases the projects are the major focus of the courses In others they may range from an essential component to one of several options The book also speculates about heretofore untapped possibilities for service learning even including courses in pure mathematics College faculty often may not fully appreciate the wide range of support mechanisms for such ventures even within their own institutions so the book includes a lengthy chapter on the details of converting a rough idea to a solid action plan sometimes even picking up financial support and other often unexpected benefits along the way Creative teachers rarely implement a project in exactly the same way as a colleague might have so the emphasis here is to display a wide range of successful projects in order to encourage readers to develop some of their own
