

The Cosmic Ordering Service

A close-up photograph of a dandelion seed head. The seed head is brown and fuzzy, with many fine, white, feathery seeds blowing away from it. The background is a clear blue sky with some light, wispy clouds. The overall image has a soft, ethereal quality.

Bell Laboratories Record Bell Telephone Laboratories, 1977 The Egyptian Oracle Project Robyn Gillam, Jeffrey Jacobson, 2015-07-30 For more than 2 000 years between 1500 BCE and 600 CE the Egyptian processional oracle was one of the main points of contact between temple based religion and the general population In a public ceremony a god would indicate its will or answer questions through the movements of a portable cult statue borne by priests or important members of the community The Egyptian Oracle Project is an interactive performance that adapts this ceremony to serve as the basis for a mixed reality educational experience for children and young adults using both virtual reality and live performance The scene is set in a virtual Egyptian temple projected onto a wall An oracle led by a high priest avatar controlled by a live human puppeteer is brought into the presence of a live audience who act in the role of the Egyptian populace Through the mediation of an actress the audience interacts with the avatar recreating the event The series of carefully focused essays in this book provides vital background to this path breaking project in three sections After a brief introduction to educational theatre and virtual reality the first section describes the ancient ceremony and its development along with cross cultural connections Then the development of the script and its performance in the context of mixed reality and educational theatre are examined The final set of essays describes the virtual temple setting in more detail and explores the wider implications of this project for virtual heritage

Untouchable Pasts Saurabh Dube, 1998-03-19 Untouchable Pasts constructs a history of an untouchable and heretical community over the last two hundred years The Satnamis of Central India have combined the features of a caste and a sect to question and challenge the tenor of ritual power that variously defines Hinduism At the same time within the community schemes of meaning and power particularly those centering on gender have been imbued with ambiguity and a reproduction of forms of inequality The book presents an interpretive account of Satnami endeavors encounters and experiences by combining history and anthropology archival and field work It addresses a clutch of theoretical questions and a range of key and inextricably bound analytical relationships in an accessible manner Issues of caste and untouchability sect and kinship myths and pasts are rendered here as part of a wider dynamic between religion and power gender and community writing and the constitution of traditions ritual and the making of modernities and orality and the construction of histories Indeed Untouchable Pasts brings together the perspectives and possibilities defined by three overlapping but distinct theoretical developments that have been elaborated in recent years first novel renderings of anthropologies and ethnographies of the historical imagination second critically engaged constructions of histories from below particularly by the collective Subaltern Studies endeavor and finally a conceptual emphasis on the everyday as an arena for the production negotiation transaction and contestations of meanings within wider networks and relationships of power By casting these analytical tendencies in a critical dialogue with one another Untouchable Pasts works toward questioning some of those overarching oppositions for example between ritual and rationality myth and history tradition and
