

9. Why does the boys' plan for rescue fail?

The boys did not have a well-thought-out plan. They used too much wood for a small, controllable fire, and they never thought of a way to control the fire to keep it from getting out of hand. Most of their readily-available firewood was burned up, making keeping the fire going much more difficult.

Chapters 3 - 4

1. Although Ralph criticizes the boys for their lack of cooperation, does he bear some of the responsibility for the failures of the group to achieve its goals? Why or why not?

Ralph is partially responsible for their failures. He has the desire to bring a measure of civilization to the island, but he lacks the competence to do so. He believes life is much like a story book, and that although there will be obstacles, the clever boys will overcome them all, and they will emerge victorious in the traditional, happy ending. Ralph has an idealized view of life and can never actually get a grip on carrying out his plans.

2. How has Jack's personality developed during his stay on the island?

Jack has degenerated from a superficially civilized school boy to a near animal level. He yearns to kill, yet he too is learning the vast difference between imagining himself a hunter and actually killing a living creature. Once he begins to kill and gets over his initial squeamishness, he will become ruthless.

3. Ralph says of Simon, "He's queer. He's funny." What kind of a boy is Simon?

Simon is one of Ralph's most loyal and helpful workers. Yet, when he has some free time, he goes off by himself to find a place to be quiet and to think. Society, like the boys, distrusts those who are loners. The love of beauty and solitude is suspect.

4. After Maurice and Roger destroy the littluns' sand castles, Roger stalks the young boy named Henry. When he begins to throw stones, why does he just throw them near him instead of directly at him?

The old laws of church and school and family still hold him back.

5. What causes the hunters, who had promised to keep the fire burning, to neglect it and allow it to go out?

Jack's immediate goal is to kill a pig; this is all he can think about. The building of a fire and the rescue are long-term goals. Savages cannot deal with long-term goals; they only live in the present, for instant gratification of their immediate needs.

6. Why does Jack paint his face?

Jack's clay paint effectively blots out his real features, and he can become an anonymous savage.
