Torbic, 2014 This report presents recommendations for bicycle lane widths for various roadway and traffic characteristics including traffic volume vehicle mix i.e. percent trucks land width and or total roadway width and presence absence of on street parking Foreword Technical Handbook of Bikeway Design Claude Bernard, Robert Boivin, Laurent Moreau, Jean-François Pronovost, Vélo Québec, Québec (Province). Wells, Peter Wells, 1994 The motor industry is the largest manufacturing industry in the European Community US and Japan yet its products are among the most environmentally damaging Although public opinion in much of the industrialised world has turned green confusion still remains as to the implications for the motor industry Will the car survive and if so in what form Can we afford to do without the motor industry and can we distribute our goods without tracks Motor Vehicles in the Environment highlights a number of issues which form the basis of future legislation affecting the motor industry It offers a series of perspectives ranging from green governmental economic and marketing issues to the impact on a specific sector of the industry Prominent international experts analyse the implications of the green revolution for their specialist fields and areas of interest Road & Transport Research ,1998 Urban Development, Transport and the Environment ,1995 Development of a Performance Based Specification for a Major Bicycle Facility Peter Cairney,Karen King,ARRB Transport Research,2003 A Comparative Analysis of Bicycle Lanes Versus Wide Curb Lanes: Final Report William W. Meeting,1993 A Comparative Analysis of Bicycle Lanes Versus Wide Curb Lanes ,1999 This report is a comparative analysis of bicycle lanes BLs versus wide curb lanes WCLs The primary analysis was based on videotapes of almost 4 600 bicyclists 2 700 riding in BLs and 1 900 in WCLs in the cities of Santa Barbara California Gainesville Florida and Austin Texas as the bicyclists approached and road through eight BL and eight WCL intersections with varying speed and traffic conditions The intent was to videotape bicyclists who regularly ride in traffic The videotapes were coded to learn about operational characteristics e g intersection approach position and subsequent maneuvers and conflicts with motor vehicles other bicycles or pedestrians Brief Dutch Design Manual for Bicycle and Pedestrian Bridges Christa Van den Berg,2015 As one of the Netherland s main bridge design offices ipv Delft has focused on designing bicycle and pedestrian bridges for two decades The company has used their extensive experience in bridge design to write this publication This design manual focuses on the fundamentals of of bridge design answering practical questions regarding issues such as bridge width and slopes It also lists the things that should be taken into account before starting on the actual design and it offers insight in the Dutch regulations regarding loads and collision forces General advice on cost reduction is also included and several of the company s projects are shown to illustrate the theoretical contents The Brief Dutch Design Manual for Bicycle and Pedestrian Bridges therefore is a vital source of both practical information and bridge design inspiration back cover Behavioral Models and Characteristics of Bicycle-automobile Mixed-traffic Dean Brantley Taylor,Hani S. Mahmassani,1998 This report addresses an important need for fundamental understanding of bicycle automobile mixed traffic It presents models of 1 gap acceptance behavior and 2 bicyclist behavior at the onset of a yellow traffic signal indication in addition to analysis of 3 coordinating traffic signals to provide progression for both bicycles and automobiles Fundamental insights into mixed traffic behavior are derived and applied to selected problems in mixed traffic engineering and operations Discrete choice probit models are developed for both motorist and cyclist gap acceptance behavior An important fundamental insight from these models is that both cyclists and motorists require a longer gap when the gap is closed by a large vehicle e g bus and both will accept a shorter gap when the gap is closed by a bicycle relative to a gap closed by a passenger car A methodology for determining an adequate clearance interval for bicycles is developed from a deterministic model based on kinematic relations The bicyclists behavior at the onset of a yellow signal indication are obtained Finally a conceptual foundation consisting of three primary contributions is developed for analyzing bicycle automobile mixed traffic progression along signalized streets Bicycle Facilities and Use William E.
