How to Make a Lava Lamp

What Happened

A lava lamp works because of two different scientific principles: density and polarity.

Density is the measurement of how compact a substance is. The denser it is, the more it will sink.

If you mix oil and water, you'll find that the water is heavier than the oil, so it sinks to the bottom of the oil.

Adding food coloring to the oil and water will make the mixture look like a lava lamp. The food coloring is "polar" because it has a positive electrical charge that attracts water molecules.

Oil molecules, however, are non-polar. They don't have a positive charge, so they are not attracted to the water molecules at all. This is why oil and water don't mix. Instead of mixing, a light color separates from the dark color. The oil floats on top of the water. The water stays at the bottom. The oil is lighter than the water, so it floats. The water is heavier than the oil, so it sinks.

Science

What You Do

- Step 1: Fill the flask with oil.
- Step 2: Fill the flask with water.
- Step 3: Add a few drops of food coloring.
- Step 4: Break an Alka-Seltzer tablet into pieces and add them to the flask. It will start bubbling and the mixture will change color.
