brought to the fore and described First the study of face to face communication leads to a revision of the traditional dichotomy between linguistic and enacted to develop a new approach to embodied language Kendon 2004 Second all structures of language take on a sociolinguistic and pragmatic meaning as proposed by cognitive semantics which considers it impossible to trace a separation between purely linguistic and extralinguistic knowledge Finally if speech from the point of view of its materiality is variable fragile and non segmentable i e not systematically discrete also signs are not always segmentable into discrete invariable and meaningless units This then calls into question some of the properties traditionally associated with human languages in general notably that of duality of patterning These are only some of the main issues you will find in this volume that has no parallel both in sign and in spoken languages linguistic research
