

Concept Map

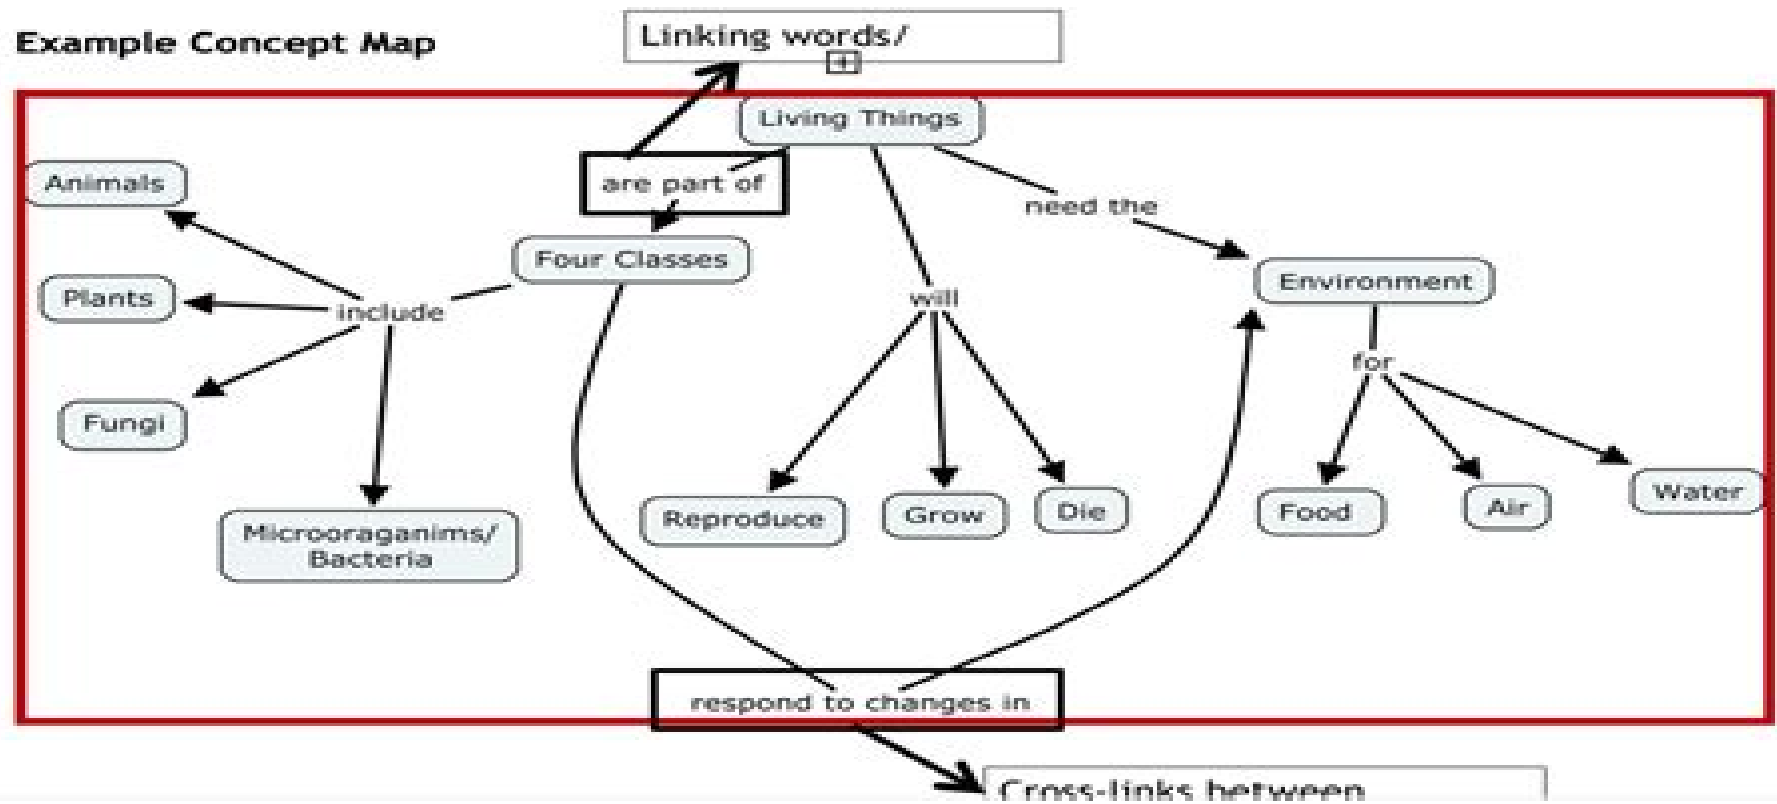

Concept maps are tool used to show relationships between different concepts. Create a concept map (see example below) of words/terms from the course. Show how these terms are related.

Use the following question as a guide to focus your concept map: How does genetic engineering fit into biotechnology?

Directions:

- Select the 10 terms you will use in your concept map on genetic engineering
- You may add more terms as necessary to complete your concept map.
- Use linking words or phrases between concepts to help explain the connections
- Create at least one cross-link between main concept branches
