This section explains what scientists know about human chromosomes, as well as the inheritance of certain human traits and disorders. It also describes how scientists study the inheritance of human traits.

Human Chromosomes (pages 341-342)

- How do biologists make a karyotype? _____

- Circle the letter of each sentence that is true about human chromosomes.
 - ☐ The X and Y chromosomes are known as sex chromosomes because they determine an individual's sex.
 - ☐ Males have two X chromosomes.
 - ☐ Autosomes are all the chromosomes, except the sex chromosomes.
 - ☐ Biologists would write 46,XY to indicate a human female.
- Complete the Punnett square below to show how the sex chromosomes segregate during meiosis.

	Female XX
	X	X
Male XY	X

blocks of consecutive resolved marker loci called block extension is proposed. It is very efficient and can be used for large pedigrees with a large number of markers especially for those data sets requiring few recombinants or recombination events. A polynomial time exact algorithm for haplotype reconstruction without recombinants is also presented. This algorithm first identifies all the necessary constraints based on the Mendelian law and the zero recombinant assumption and represents them using a system of linear equations over the cyclic group Z_2 . By using a simple method based on Gaussian elimination we could obtain all possible feasible haplotype configurations. We have tested the block extension algorithm on simulated data generated on three pedigree structures. The results show that the algorithm performs very well on both multi allelic and biallelic data especially when the number of recombinants is small.
