Germany Sparks a New War in Europe

 (pages 441–442)

What caused Britain and France to declare war?

In 1939, Adolf Hitler decided to move on Poland. He had already conquered Austria and Czechoslovakia. When Hitler signed a nonaggression pact with Stalin of the Soviet Union, they agreed not to attack each other. Secretly, they also agreed to split Poland between them. This deal removed the threat of the Soviets attacking Germany from the east.

So, on September 1, the German army invaded Poland in a surprise attack. Using planes, tanks, and troops, it moved suddenly in a technique called blitzkrieg, or “lightning war.” Britain and France declared war, but Poland fell before they could help.

On September 17, after secret agreement with Hitler, Stalin invaded eastern Poland. Stalin then began annexing the regions covered in a second part of the agreement. Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia fell without a struggle. However, Finland fought back. In March 1940, Finland was forced to surrender.

For seven months after Poland fell to the Germans, Europe was calm. France and Britain got their armies ready. They waited for Hitler's next move.

1. Why did Poland fall to the Germans so quickly?

Blitzkrieg Lloyd Clark, 2016-09-06 A masterly account of the juggernaut offensive that conquered France but also marked the beginning of the end for Nazi Germany in World War II Kirkus Reviews In the spring of 1940 the German forces launched an attack on France that combined superb intelligence cutting edge strategy and new technology the blitzkrieg or lightning war In just six weeks it would achieve what their fathers had failed to do in all four years of the First World War It was a stunning victory But here leading British military historian and academic Lloyd Clark argues that much of our understanding of this victory is based on myth Far from being a foregone conclusion Hitler's plan could easily have failed had the Allies been even slightly less inept or the Germans less fortunate The Germans recognized that success depended not only on surprise but also avoiding a protracted struggle for which they were not prepared making defeat a very real possibility Their surprise victory proved the apex of their achievement far from being undefeatable Clark argues the Battle of France revealed Germany and its armed forces to be highly vulnerable And Hitler dismissed this fact as he planned his next move and greatest blunder the invasion of the Soviet Union In this eye opening reassessment complete with maps and illustrations Clark presents a well balanced narrative that highlights the knife edge victory of the German forces and reveals how very close the Nazi war machine came to catastrophe in the early days of World War II New York Journal of Books Modern World History - Patterns of Interaction, 1998-12-21 Arkansas History for Young People (Teacher's Edition) Shay E. Normandy campaign Milner shows how the struggle for supremacy between Churchill and Roosevelt changed the course of the Second World War and how their rivalry shaped our understanding of the Normandy campaign and the war itself The Life and Times of Leif Eriksson Earle Rice Jr.,2009-09 On his historic voyage Erik's son backtracked on a course followed by another Viking fifteen years earlier In a frail all purpose merchant vessel known as a kn rrr Leif sailed northward along Greenland's west coast crossed the frigid waters of present day Baffin Bay and turned southward to what is generally believed to be Newfoundland There Leif established the first European colony on the North American continent Find out about his family's murderous history and what it took to brave the icy waters and stormy lands of the North Atlantic during the Viking Age Lightning War Ronald E.
