Common Threads Weaving Community Through Collaborative Eco Art:

Common Threads Sharon Kallis, 2014-11-01 A guide to creating community based art installations using green waste invasive species and natural materials Disposing of unwanted natural materials can be expensive and time consuming or it can present a tremendous opportunity for creating collaborative eco art Invasive species control green waste management urban gardening and traditional crafts can all be brought together to strengthen community relationships and foster responsible land stewardship Simple easily taught creative techniques applied with shared purpose become the modern day equivalent of a barn raising or a quilting bee Common Threads is a unique guide to engaging community members in communal handwork for the greater good Sharon Kallis provides a wealth of ideas for Working with unwanted natural materials with an emphasis on green waste and invasive species Visualizing projects that celebrate the human element while crafting works of art or environmental remediation Creating opportunities for individuals to connect with nature in a unique meditative yet community oriented way Combining detailed step by step instructions with tips for successful process and an overview of completed projects Common Threads is a different kind of weaving book This inspirational guide is designed to help artists and activists foster community build empowerment and develop a do it together attitude while planning and implementing works of collaborative eco art Sharon Kallis is a Vancouver artist who specializes in working with unwanted natural materials Involving community in connecting traditional hand techniques with invasive species and garden waste she creates site specific installations that become ecological interventions Her recent projects include The Urban Weaver Project Aberthau flax food fibre and working closely with fiber artists park ecologists First Nations basket weavers and others

Culture and Sustainable Development in the City Sacha Kagan, 2022-08-05 This book exposes the potential to advance a cultural approach to sustainable urban development It explores urban spaces of possibilities and links them to the seized or missed opportunities for innovative forms of transversal partnerships throughout the city and of culturally sensitive urban policies The call for sustainability brings with it challenges for which in view of the urgency of social transformation institutional innovations are necessary Sustainable urban development will only succeed through creative impulses experiments trying out innovative ideas and making alternatives visible in particular through locally rooted urban initiatives artistic actions and social movements Discussing many concrete examples from several years of empirical research in the cities of Hanover and Hamburg Germany Baltimore and Chicago USA Bangalore India St Petersburg Russia Singapore and Vancouver Canada the book connects urban spaces and their actors looks at their guiding principles strategies and concrete practices and identifies new levers networks and alliances Readers will find in this book not only inspiring examples of culture in everyday life in the city but also explanations about the qualities that make local cultural initiatives especially full of potentials and how they may translate into city wide changes engaging with the whole City as Space of Possibilities The book will interest researchers and advanced students in the interdisciplinary fields of urban studies sustainability science sustainability research cultural sciences urban sociology and sociology of the arts cultural sociology and those interested in the transdisciplinary collaborations between the arts academia and civil society Contemporary Environmental and Mathematics Education Modelling Using New Geometric Approaches Susan Gerofsky, 2018-07-09 This book takes a fresh approach to using educational tools to solve profound problems in societies The authors bring perspectives from curriculum studies mathematics education environmental education and Indigenous epistemologies to a new consideration of geometries to think with These tools reveal the wealth of resources and interrelationships in our world that have the potential to reconfigure and revitalize education The transdisciplinary nature of the chapters and authors emphasizes the need for thinking beyond boundaries while respecting the wisdom inherent in intellectual disciplines and traditions Environmental and Sustainability Education in Teacher Education Douglas D. Karrow, Maurice DiGiuseppe, 2020-01-01 This book was inspired by the inaugural National Roundtable on Environmental and Sustainability Education in Canadian Faculties of Education Roundtable 2016 which took place June 14 16 2016 at Trent University in Peterborough Ontario Roundtable 2016 brought together over seventy participants from across Canada including educators researchers policy makers consultants and community organizations Over the course of three days participants took part in keynote addresses research colloquia networking socials and collaborative inquiry activities focused on Environmental Sustainability Education in Teacher Education ESE TE Roundtable 2016 resulted in the publication of a National Action Plan containing action oriented recommendations for enhancing ESE TE and a position statement titled The Otonabee Declaration where delegates articulated their views regarding environmental degradation the critical need for enhancing ESE TE and the role educators children youth educational institutions policy makers and Indigenous communities play in enhancing ESE TE in Canada This volume concludes with a discussion placing current Canadian ESE TE theory and practice within an international context

Humanistic Management and Sustainable Tourism Maria Della Lucia, Ernestina Giudici, 2021-02-25 Tourism is a fast growing and changing industry which has become a driver of economic development in both developed and underdeveloped countries While the tourism industry's potential for shared value creation and sustainable development is acknowledged the concerns around the environmental and social pressures remain a challenge for businesses organizations and destinations This is because sustainable tourism arguably conflicts with the predominant neoliberal structure of the economy and with the hierarchical profit and consumption driven societies The emphasis on competition growth and profitability may undermine economic viability itself by consuming unreproducible resources and by undermining the six essential elements dignity people prosperity social justice planet and partnership that are conceptually linked to sustainable development The crises recurrently challenging the global travel and tourism environment including climate change bushfires extreme weather disasters pandemics and the financial crisis show the weaknesses of neoliberal approaches and the collective economic dependency of countries on tourism that is vulnerable if not completely unsustainable This vulnerability asks for understanding that the collective future depends on developing entirely new approaches and interpretation of tourism to effectively respond to the human societal social and climate challenges This book offers a novel and original perspective entailing the application of a humanistic management approach to sustainable tourism which is centered on the value of human life the protection of human dignity and the promotion of well being Multiple theoretical approaches methods and practical cases on an international scale shed light on shared value creation and human dignity as a necessary condition for its achievement in different contexts Implicitly and explicitly they respond to the current urgency to implement strategies to recover from the worldwide impact of the pandemic crisis and to provide a vision of what tourism could and should be when it recovers It will be of interest to researchers academics professionals and postgraduates in the fields of management sustainability and tourism development

Poe, Queerness, and the End of Time Paul Christian Jones,2022-05-16 This book builds upon recent theoretical approaches that define queerness as more of a temporal orientation than a sexual one to explore how Edgar Allan Poe s literary works were frequently invested in imagining lives that contemporary readers can understand as queer as they stray outside of or aggressively reject normative life paths including heterosexual romance marriage and reproduction and emphasize individuals present desires over future plans The book s analysis of many of Poe s best known works including The Raven The Fall of the House of Usher The Black Cat The Masque of the Red Death and The Murders in the Rue Morgue show that his attraction to the liberation of queerness is accompanied by demonstrations of extreme anxiety about the potentially terrifying consequences of non normative choices While Poe never resolved the conflicts in his thinking this book argues that this compelling imaginative tension between queerness and temporal normativity is crucial to understanding his canon
