

EXPERIMENT NO. 2Performance evaluation of a Medium and Long Transmission Line

Aim: To determine voltage and power at the sending end and to regulate the voltage using Medium and Long Transmission line model.

Apparatus: MATLAB

Theory: The transmission line having its effective length more than 80 km but less than 250 km, is generally referred to as a medium transmission line. Due to the line length being considerably high, admittance Y of the network does play a role in calculating the effective circuit parameters, unlike in the case of short transmission lines. For this reason, the modelling of a medium length transmission line is done using lumped shunt admittance along with the lumped impedance in series to the circuit.

These lumped parameters of a medium length transmission line can be represented using two different models, namely-

- 1) Nominal Π representation.
- 2) Nominal T representation.

Nominal Π Representation of a Medium Transmission Line

In case of a nominal Π representation, the lumped series impedance is placed at the middle of the circuit where as the shunt admittances are at the ends. As we can see from the diagram of the Π network below, the total lumped shunt admittance is divided into 2 equal halves, and each half with value

$Y/2$ is placed at both the sending and the receiving end while the entire circuit impedance is between the two. The shape of the circuit so formed resembles that of a symbol Π , and for this reason it is known as the nominal Π representation of a medium transmission line. It is mainly used for determining the general circuit parameters and performing load flow analysis.
