Ex. Electrical wire		Electrical wires are conductors that transmit electricity from a source, usually a nearby transformer, to an outlet in your home or business.
Switch		An electrical switch serves the purpose of controlling the flow of electrical current within a circuit. It can be used to both inhibit the flow of the current or to initiate it.
Battery		The role of a battery (or cell) in an electric circuit is to supply energy to the circuit by doing work upon the charge to move it from the low energy terminal to the high energy terminal.
Fuse		The fuse breaks the circuit if a fault in an appliance causes too much current to flow. This protects the wiring and the

Electrical Technology Grade12 Exemplar 2014:

Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker, Monica McLean, 2022-07-15 This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting Amartya Sen s capability approach and a framework of key concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capabilitarian scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capabilitarian scholars practitioners and policy makers

Preparing and accessing decent work amongst rural youth in Cambodia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-08-12 The case study explores which skills and training opportunities young people need in order to gain access to decent employment in rural areas The research was undertaken in order to develop recommendations to support the Ministry of Agriculture Forestry and Fisheries MAFF and FAO Cambodia in developing appropriate recommendations to support rural young people especially those of the 15 to 17 age cohort The study highlights the limited decent employment opportunities that currently exist along various agricultural value chains in rural Cambodia Poverty and the structural problems of the agricultural sector are the main barriers for youth in accessing decent rural employment A substantial enhancement of the education system as well as the provision of appropriate training services to ensure successful schoolto work transition is seen as necessary to tackle these challenges A well balanced policy mix reflecting national and local circumstances can encourage employment opportunities and create an environment that enables rural youth Building on previous research on agriculture in Cambodia agricultural transformation requires promotion of agribusiness enterprises support to community managed organizations of farmers promotion of agropreneurs and investments in agricultural and rural development particularly in infrastructure energy water education and health Moreover most youth entering agriculture are self employed and work as smallscale farmers Therefore the provision of skills and training in rural areas should focus on the skills required to be self employed
