The Methodology of Political Economy J.I. Bakker, 2015-12-24 The importance of the global rural urban matrix is often overlooked due to urban normativity But sometimes agrarian populism and a pastoral rural imaginary result in the equally fallacy of a rural normativity as in Jeffersonian nostalgia for a lost way of life that never existed The nature of rurality in North America is important to study but as Alessandro Bonanno makes clear we cannot limit ourselves to the study of one or two nation states We must take a global perspective when it comes to the bio physical environment and the nature of the world capitalist system This collection takes such a perspective The editor frames the contributions with a Meta Paradigm called the New Political Economy Perspective NPEP and explains the roots of that approach in Classical Political Economy and the Canadian Political Economy Tradition of Harold Adams Innis There are chapters by an anthropologist a geographer two generalist sociologists and a group of rural sociologists There is also a chapter on psychiatry and mental health and another chapter which discusses pedagogy The use of an inter disciplinary framework to study global issues makes this a stimulating book which provides a window on issues that are often overlooked

The Geographies of COVID-19 Melinda Laituri, Robert B. Richardson, Junghwan Kim, 2022-10-31 This volume of case studies focuses on the geographies of COVID 19 around the world These geographies are located in both time and space concentrating on both first and second order impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic First order impacts are those associated with the immediate response to the pandemic that include tracking number of deaths and cases testing access to hospitals impacts on essential workers searching for the origins of the virus and preventive treatments such as vaccines and contact tracing Second order impacts are the result of actions practices and policies in response to the spread of the virus with longer term effects on food security access to health services loss of livelihoods evictions and migration Further the COVID 19 pandemic will be prolonged due to the onset of variants as well as setting the stage for similar future events This volume provides a synopsis of how geography and geospatial approaches are used to understand this event and the emerging new normal The volume s approach is necessarily selective due to the global reach of the pandemic and the broad sweep of second order impacts where important issues may be left out However the book is envisioned as the prelude to an extended conversation about adaptation to complex circumstances using geospatial tools Using case studies and examples of geospatial analyses this volume adopts a geographic lens to highlight the differences and commonalities across space and time where fundamental inequities are exposed the governmental response is varied and outcomes remain uncertain This moment of global collective experience starkly reveals how inequality is ubiquitous and vulnerable populations those unable to access basic needs are increasing This place based approach identifies how geospatial analyses and resulting maps depict the pandemic as it ebbs and flows across the globe Data driven decision making is needed as we navigate the pandemic and determine ways to address future such events to enable local and regional governments in prioritizing limited resources to mitigate the long term consequences of COVID 19

An Environmental History of the UK Defence Estate, 1945 to the Present Marianna Dudley,2012-05-03 This book brings to attention the history of places that have traditionally remained under the radar in discussions of war and the environment through site based studies of five training areas in southwest England and Wales Salisbury Plain Lulworth Dartmoor Sennybridge and Castlemartin At these sites the big events of the twentieth century are written into landscapes that absorb their impact and reflect change in intriguing ways Here however environment is more than a canvas on which historical forces play out it has an agency of its own as the depiction of the surprising nature and robust habitats of the training areas recognises An Environmental History of the UK Defence Estate 1945 to the Present critically examines the gradual greening of the MoD as it developed policies of military environmentalism It includes the histories of the ghost villages created by forced evictions and charts the rise and fall of anti military protest movements It depicts heated confrontations mass trespasses and demands for public access alongside conservation work and training activities situating the human histories of these sites within their environmental history and taking the reader behind the barbed wire in the first study of its kind
