Boomerang English Edition:

Every Monument Will Fall Dan Hicks, 2025-05-01 An extraordinary intervention If you want to understand the stakes and the limitations of contemporary conflict over culture and colonial history this bold provocative book is an indispensable resource Paul Gilroy founding Director of the Sarah Parker Remond Centre for the Study of Race and Racism at UCL Hicks must read book describes how it was possible for a human skull to be made into a drinking cup and used in a genteel Oxford college well into the 21st century as if empire were an eternal state of nature Read it to learn new ways to be anti racist abolitionist and to tell other stories than those commemorated by the monuments that surround us from statues to museums and the police Nicholas Mirzoeff author of White Sight Brave and clear sighted Hicks opens up an extraordinary conversation between the past and the present This is a book about falling statues but so much more It s about how we ve been lied to and how we can approach the past with honesty Hicks asks whether history and archaeology should be used to justify actions we know impinge on the rights of others or to understand ourselves better Alice Roberts bestselling author of Crypt Dan Hicks writes with grace and fierce focus about what we choose to remember and why in our patterns of thought our institutions and the built environment in which we live Eyal Weizman director of Forensic Architecture The culture war is over If you want it to be It wasn t even a culture war it was a war on culture A sustained attack Dan Hicks argues in the form of the weaponisation of civic museums public art and even universities and one that has a deeper history than you might think Tracing the origins of contemporary conflicts over art heritage memory and colonialism Every Monument Will Fall joins the dots between the building of statues the founding of academic disciplines like archaeology and anthropology and the warehousing of stolen art and human skulls in museums including the one in which he is a curator Part history part biography part excavation the story runs from the Yorkshire wolds to the Crimean War from southern Ireland to the frontline of the American Civil War from the City of London to the University of Oxford revealing enduring legacies of militarism slavery racism and white supremacy hardwired into the heart of our cultural institutions Every Monument Will Fall offers an urgent reappraisal of how we think about culture and how to find hope remembrance and reconciliation in the fragments of an unfinished violent past Refusing to choose between pulling down every statue or living in a past that we can never change the book makes the case for allowing monuments to fall once in a while even those that are hard to see as monuments rebuilding a memory culture that is in step with our times

The Game-Centred Approach to Sport Literacy Sixto González-Víllora, Javier Fernandez-Rio, Eva Guijarro, Manuel Jacob Sierra-Díaz, 2020-10-22 The Game Centred Approach GCA is the ideal framework for coaches and teachers to develop comprehensive tactical or technical lessons for any game both in physical education and in extracurricular sport contexts Learning about the pedagogical models included in this approach has never been easier thanks to this short introductory guide The book helps the reader acquire the skills needed to design effective session plans regardless of the sport that is being taught or coached It introduces the core concepts underpinning the GCA model complemented by practical examples of tasks and strategies for each game category and assessment instrument This is essential reading for all educators coaches or sports professionals who wish to improve their teaching or coaching to enhance their students and players physical literacy and sport competence It is also invaluable reading for any student or researcher working in physical education sport coaching or sport pedagogy

Vital Subjects Rhiannon Noel Welch, 2016 Since World War II Italy has struggled to recast both its colonial past and its alliance with Nazi Germany For many years pervading much intellectual and public discourse was the contention that prior to the great influx of racialized migrants in the mid 1980s and with the exception of the Fascist period there simply was no race racialized others racist intolerance etc in Italy Vital Subjects examines cultural production literature sociology and public health discourse and early film from the years between Unification and the end of the First World War ca 1860 and 1920 in order to explore how race and colonialism were integral to modern Italian national culture rather than a marginal afterthought or a Fascist aberration Drawing from theorizations of biopolitics a term coined by political theorists from Michel Foucault to Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito and numerous others to address how the life and productivity of the population emerges as a distinctively modern political question the book repositions discourses of race and colonialism with regard to post Unification national culture Vital Subjects reads cultural texts in a biopolitical key arguing that the tenor of racial discourse was overwhelmingly positive focusing on making Italians as vital subjects robust vigorous well nourished and re productive
