Daughters Carol Gold, 1996 When Denmark introduced compulsory education in 1814 the city of Copenhagen responded by regulating the already existing private school system Roughly half of the school age population went to some kind of school and of those the overwhelming majority attended private schools most of which were run by women The book tells the story of these women their schools and pupils on the 150 private schools from 1790 1820 Carol Gold's contention is that these private schools and their teachers were much better than is presently assumed in Danish historiography The teachers were all literate they could read and most of them could write The education provided for girls ranged from the basics of reading writing and arithmetic plus needlework in the beginner schools to the scientific subjects of history geography natural sciences and foreign languages in the more advanced academies Furthermore the schools formed the basis of the Copenhagen school system which was established at the beginning of the 19th century A History of Hegelianism in

Golden Age Denmark, Tome III Jon Stewart, 2025-03-28 This is the third volume of a three volume work dedicated to exploring the influence of G W F Hegel's philosophical thinking in Golden Age Denmark The work demonstrates that the largely overlooked tradition of Danish Hegelianism played a profound and indeed constitutive role in many spheres of the Golden Age culture This third tome covers the most exciting and dynamic time in the Danish Hegel reception from 1842 to 1855 This heterogeneous period saw the emergence of several new figures many of whom were associated with the left Hegelian school This period is best known for the publication of the pseudonymous works of Søren Kierkegaard The present tome places these famous works in the context of other contemporary Danish discussions about Hegel's philosophy It shows that many of Kierkegaard's criticisms had been raised by other Danish thinkers before him and that a large part of his polemical campaign was aimed at the leading figures of the previous periods of the Danish Hegel reception namely Johan Ludvig Heiberg and Hans Martensen The Nordic Languages.
