Battarbee and Namatjira Martin Edmond, 2014-10-01 Battarbee and Namatjira is the biography of two artists Rex Battarbee and Albert Namatjira one white Australian from Warrnambool in Victoria the other Aboriginal of the Arrernte people from the Hermannsburg Mission south of Alice Springs From their first encounters in the early 1930s when Battarbee introduced Namatjira to the techniques of water colour painting through the period of Namatjira's popularity as a painter to the tragic circumstances leading to his death in 1959 their close relationship was to have a decisive impact on Australian art This biography illustrated with photographs makes extensive use of Battarbee's diaries for the first time to throw new light on Namatjira's life and to bring Battarbee who has been largely ignored by biographers back into focus Some of its findings will be controversial By moving between the artists and their backgrounds and looking closely at the nature of their friendship Edmond is able to portray the personal and social complexities the two men faced while at the same time illuminating larger cultural themes the treatment of the Arrernte and Indigenous people generally the influence of the Lutheran church the development of anthropology and the evolution of Australian art 65,000 Years: A Short History of Australian Art Marcia Langton, Judith Ryan, 2024-10-15 65 000 Years A Short History of Australian Art stares into the dark heart of Australia's brutal colonial history and offers new insights into the first art of this country Long before Britain's invasion of Australia in 1788 First Peoples cultural and design traditions flourished for thousands of generations Their art shaped the continent as we know it today and the societies that thrived here but these continuing artistic practices and new art forms were disregarded by the settlers and not considered to be fine art until the late 1980s In this publication twenty five writers urge us to reconsider the art history that is unique to the Australian continent and to acknowledge its rise to prominence in modern times Featuring new writing by leading thinkers across generations and disciplines it celebrates Indigenous Australian art across media time and language groups Today Indigenous art and artists are at the forefront of contemporary art practice In very real and tangible ways this publication reveals the artistic brilliance of Australia's First Peoples and stands as a testament to their resilience This book is published in association with a major exhibition at the University of Melbourne's revitalised Potter Museum of Art opening in 2025 Also titled 65 000 Years A Short History of Australian Art the exhibition curated by Professor Marcia Langton AO Ms Judith Ryan AM and Ms Shanyssa McConville features over 400 artworks that celebrate the longevity and brilliance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander art despite a difficult history of colonialism and scientific racism Art in the Aranda Vanessa York, 2007 Brief factual information about the Aranda Aboriginal Australian landscape artist Albert Namatjira and his friend and fellow artist Rex Battarbee Followed by a play recreating incidents in Namatjira's career Suggested level primary intermediate Aboriginal Art Donna Leslie, 2008 Donna Leslie a Post doctoral Research Fellow at The University of Melbourne sets out to demonstrate how Aboriginal art has questioned the assimilationist policies which prevailed in Australia from the 1930s to the 1970s Her rigorous and sustained argument supported by an impressive array of important visual images reveals an extensive grasp of issues relating not only to the practice and history of art but also in fields of anthropology ethnology and sociology The book is a rare presentation of aspects of the history of Aboriginal art from an Aboriginal perspective and provides fresh ways of understanding Aboriginal experience While the author acknowledges the problems faced by Aboriginal peoples particularly those associated with the former policy of assimilation her message is positive and encourages a deepening understanding of Aboriginal art culture and peoples in the spirit of reconciliation Moreover she addresses the development of Aboriginal art in the modern Australian city as well as in the more traditional environment of the land

Ochre and Rust Philip Jones,2019-02-01 Ochre and Rust offers a fresh perspective on frontier relations between Australian Aboriginal people and European colonists Nine museum artefacts take the reader into a fascinating zone of encounter and mutual curiosity between collectors and those indigenous people who piqued or responded to their interest While colonialism is the broad frame details gleaned from archives images and the objects themselves reveal a new picture of interaction between individual Aboriginal people and European collectors Philip Jones explores and makes sense of particular historical moments in colonial history when Aboriginal people perceived and expected other more elusive outcomes Ochre and Rust an elegantly written challenge to received wisdom about the colonial frontier has won Australia's inaugural Prime Minister's Award for Literary Non Fiction

Conceptual Art After Modernism Robert Bailey,2025-05-30 This study provides a new interpretation of art after modernism by foregrounding the importance of conceptual thinking as a pervasive force for change in art and art history since 1950 Robert Bailey shows how distinctions between art and art history gave way as conceptual thinking provided artists and art historians with a common means to reassess what art could be and do in the world Bailey assesses the results of artful and scholarly inquiries combining creative activity with intellectual rigor to proffer new approaches to a variety of social and environmental concerns ranging from questions about human identity including race class gender and sexuality to activist efforts to redress everything from abortion access to migrants rights to climate change This book provides both a historical overview of these developments and close analyses of key works and texts spanning 1950 to the present and encompassing broad geographic scope with special attention paid to Indigenous art The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history and contemporary art
