Resources in Education, 2001 The Complete Guide to Canadian Universities Kevin Paul, 1998 Are you thinking of going to university Whether you are still in high school or thinking about returning to school the decision to go to university is a crucial one Once you've decided to go making the right choice of school and acquiring the skills needed for success demand solid research This book helps you make those decisions by detailing each step along the way Detailed up to date profiles of the universities are provided as well as exercises to help you pinpoint your goals and interests This revised edition includes the latest information available on each university Western Spectrum, 2000 The Articulation/transfer Phenomenon Frederick C. Kintzer, James Lorenzo Wattenbarger, 1985 This report presents a discussion of articulation and transfer between community colleges and four year institutions and points to future directions for transfer education Chapter I examines the current situation regarding transfer education including background information on transfer enrollments a summary of the literature on transfer enrollments and performance and persistence performance and persistence in California and other states and the implications of the current situation for public policy Chapter II discusses statewide articulation and transfer and identifies three types of statewide and or transfer agreements i.e formal and legally based policies state system policies and voluntary agreements between individual institutions or systems and provides examples of each of these types of agreements This chapter also examines the transfer of vocational technical credits and the transfer potential of upper level universities Chapter III reviews significant developments on the international scene including an assessment of developments in Canada the United Kingdom Scandinavia and Ireland Finally chapter IV examines some new developments in transfer education including the shift in attention from traditional college students to the new clientele transfer relationships with business industry proprietary schools and the military major projects undertaken to promote the study of articulation and transfer and current trends in the area of articulation and transfer HB The College Buzz Book, 2006-03-23 In this new edition Vault publishes the entire surveys of current students and alumni at more than 300 top undergraduate institutions as well as the schools responses to the comments Each 4 to 5 page entry is composed of insider comments from students and alumni as well as the schools responses to the comments College and University, 1982 Includes proceedings of the association's annual convention C & U, 1982 Volume of Courses Students Carry Among Central Data Warehouse (CDW) Institutions Dale Box, 2008 The British Columbia BC Council on Admissions and Transfer BCCAT has undertaken in the last couple of years a review of the BC Transfer System Preliminary findings indicate that the current structure of the BC Transfer Guide BCTG which designates institutions as either sending institutions or receiving institutions based upon their historic primary roles may no longer fit a transfer environment in which students increasingly move in multiple directions and in which colleges traditionally perceived as primarily sending institutions aim to attract transfer students to their new degree programs The fundamental research question that this study aims to answer is whether or not there are sufficient numbers of students potentially transferring courses into college and institutes that some of these institutions should be designated as receiving institutions This study profiles the mobility of students among BC colleges university colleges and institutes referred to here as Central Data Warehouse CDW institutions based on courses they have taken in calendar years 2004 to 2006 The report concludes that given the volume of courses it may be well worth BCCAT s time to expand the Transfer Guide to include British Columbia Institute of Technology BCIT as a receiving institution assuming BCIT is interested in this designation However the analysis also shows that there may be sufficient evidence of students moving courses between other Lower Mainland institutions to include them as receiving institutions in the Transfer Guide for specific courses Appended are 1 Institution Acronyms 2 Credential Type Acronyms 3 Pivot Table Illustration I Courses Received by Select Colleges by Sending Institution and Course Name 2004 2006 Registrant Count 15 or Greater and 4 Pivot Table Illustration II Receiving Institution s for Courses Sent by Douglas College 2004 2006 Registrant Count 15 or Greater Contains 11 tables and 14 footnotes Canadians ,1988 ProFile Index ,1978 Educational Times ,1910

Warehouse CDW institutions based on courses they took in calendar years 2004 to 2006 and subsequently carried to another institution Universities were not included in the study since universities are already receiving institutions in the BC Transfer Guide This study provides evidence that there may be a good argument for moving selected courses at some institutions from a case by case basis of transfer to an articulation basis for transfer formally recorded in the BC Transfer Guide and thus to expand the number of receiving institutions Most institutions however may wish to continue to assess requests for transfer credit on a case by case basis until such time as the volume of course flow makes becoming a receiving institution a cost effective approach Contains 2 tables and 1 note
