

Deployment Methods

Data Security Guideline Policy

Full Environment Access Control

Prod, UAT, SIT & Dev environments are fully segregated by user type, or privilege level.

Shared Environment Access

Prod, UAT, SIT & Dev environment may share different user types, i.e. business, developers, support. The level of granularity must be defined on a per-user type or privilege level basis.

Hybrid Environments

Data is obfuscated/anonymized/masked based on the authority level of the user type or privilege level.

Data obfuscation/anonymization/masking is performed through ETL tools from one environment to the next.

Prod, UAT, & SIT environments may be obfuscated at a user type level but transfers of data into Dev environments may be performed through ETL utilities.

Data is obfuscated to the same rules but the deployment method uses both technical methods.
