

Area of Trapezoids and Composite Figures

Single Page Printable Reference Sheet

Quick Review

AREA OF TRAPEZOIDS

A trapezoid has four sides. Two of them are parallel to each other. The other two can be in a lot of different directions!

$b_1$  = the length of one of the parallel sides

$b_2$  = the length of the other parallel side

$h$  = the distance between the two parallel sides

Like triangles, either there are two versions of the formula to calculate the area of a trapezoid.

$$A = \frac{1}{2}(b_1 + b_2)h \quad A = \frac{(b_1 + b_2)h}{2}$$

Trapezoids come in many shapes and sizes. Confirm that you have the measurements for the two parallel sides and the distance between them (the height).

AREA OF COMPOSITE FIGURES

To find the area of a composite figure, you must find the area of each individual shape and add them together.

SOMETIMES THE MEASUREMENTS AND UNITS ARE NOT IN THE SAME UNIT! IN THAT CASE YOU WILL NEED TO CONVERT THEM TO BE THE SAME UNIT.

Thomas S. Freeman, David L. Smith, 2019-10-14 The essays in this volume seek to analyze biographical films as representations of historical individuals and the times in which they lived To do this contributors examine the context in which certain biographical films were made including the state of knowledge about their subjects at that moment and what these films reveal about the values and purposes of those who created them This is an original approach to biographical as opposed to historical films and one that has so far played little part in the growing literature on historical films The films discussed here date from the 1920s to the 2010s and deal with males and females in periods ranging from the Middle Ages to the end of the twentieth century In the process the book discusses how biographical films reflect changing attitudes towards issues such as race gender and sexuality and examines the influence of these films on popular perceptions of the past The introduction analyses the nature of biographical films as a genre it compares and contrasts the nature of biography on film with written biographies and considers their relationship with the discipline of history As the first collection of essays on this popular but understudied genre this book will be of interest to historians as well as those in film and cultural studies
