

AIM: To study various internal and external hardware components of computer architecture and its organization.

COMPONENTS/TOOLS: Computer with front, rear panel connection, CD drive, USB, audio etc.

THEORY:

A computer is a device that transforms data into meaningful information. It processes the input according to the set of instructions provided to it by the user and gives the desired output. This experiment examines the fundamental organization and operations of a computer system. As a student, you should know and be able to identify the components found in a typical computer (PC) system. As shown in Figure 9.1, the PC is modular by design. It is called a system because it includes all the components required to have a functional computer. A peripheral is a piece of computer hardware that is added to a computer in order to expand its abilities. The term peripheral is used to describe those devices that are optional in nature, as opposed to hardware that is either demanded or always required in principle. There are all different kinds of peripherals you can add to your computer. The main distinction among peripherals is the way they are connected to your computer; it can be connected internally or externally.

Introduction to Computer Hardware Lab Manual R. Kelly Campbell, 2010-05-04

Computer Hardware Maintenance

Stephen Rood, 1996 Computer Hardware Maintenance presents the full scope and understanding of how the PC hardware maintenance function should operate and be managed in an organization including steps involved in containing costs keeping records and planning the integration of the help desk function In today s IS department too often the PC hardware maintenance function is treated as a necessary evil with the understanding that eventually all equipment will have some degree of mechanical or electrical failure This book discusses scenarios where keeping the maintenance function internal is most viable and where having it external from a depot service pickup and delivery or on site service is most viable Computer Hardware Maintenance concludes with brief descriptions of available third party systems and how emerging trends in PC hardware configuration as proposed by the Desktop Management Task Force DMTF will have a major impact on the PC hardware maintenance function in the future
