New York (State)., The Development of Economics Arthur Robert Burns,1921 This is a reproduction of the original artefact Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended Since the original versions are generally quite old there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions We re happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy Economics Prentice-Hall Staff,2003 Bringing Economics to Life The Review of Economics and Statistics

,1925 The purpose of the Review is to promote the collection criticism and interpretation of economic statistics with a view to making them more accurate and valuable than they are at present for business and scientific purposes The Review of Economic Statistics, 1924 Principles of Economics E. David Emery, 1984 Kaplan AP

Macroeconomics/Microeconomics 2007 Edition Kaplan, 2006-12-26 Kaplan AP Macroeconomics Microeconomics 2007 includes 2 full length practice tests one for each exam with detailed answer explanations Diagnostic tests to target areas for score improvement Detailed answer explanations including sample answers for free response questions Proven test specific score raising strategies Key terminology defined in context Concise review of all relevant material not a rehash of an econ textbook but an efficient focus on the material that frequently appears on the AP Macroeconomics Microeconomics Exams Glossary of key terms Online component offering extra practice questions and review material Economics of Population Aging James H. Schulz, Allan Borowski, William H. Crown, 1991 This book examines claims that aging populations will create serious economic problems for various nations It examines the question in large part through the eyes of researchers and legislators in three target countries Australia Japan and the United States These countries were chosen because of similar states of economic development and because all were experiencing a rapid aging of their populations A comprehensive overview is provided of the economic issues related to aging populations Several aspects are explored in more depth To date it is the most complete and thorough study of economic issues associated with population aging After a brief review of the phenomenon of demographic aging the authors give a summary of the major economic programs offered to the aged Extensive research is used to evaluate the concept of dependency ratios and to predict the impact on younger and older persons of future economic and demographic growth This discussion then provides the basis for a review of evolving retirement policies in the three countries Special attention is given to the way pension plans have been designed especially early and mandatory retirement policies An assessment of the adequacy of retirement income follows The final three chapters are devoted to policy options for the future given trends in demographic aging Social scientists and economists will be most interested in this study Index to Theses with Abstracts Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards, 2008 Microeconomics William J.

Baumol, 1997 Econometric Modeling in Economic Education Research William E. Becker, William B.

Walstad, 1987-01-31 Since its establishment in the 1950s the American Economic Association's Committee on Economic Education has sought to promote improved instruction in economics and to facilitate this objective by stimulating research on the teaching of economics These efforts are most apparent in the sessions on economic education that the Committee organizes at the Association's annual meetings At these sessions economists interested in economic education have opportunities to present new ideas on teaching and research and also to report the findings of their research The record of this activity can be found in the Proceedings of the American Economic Review The Committee on Economic Education and its members have been actively involved in a variety of other projects In the early 1960s it organized the National Task Force on Economic Education that spurred the development of economics teaching at the precollege level This in turn led to the development of a standardized research instrument a high school test of economic understanding This was followed later in the 1960s by the preparation of a similar test of understanding college economics The development of these two instruments greatly facilitated research on the impact of economics instruction opened the way for application of increasingly sophisticated statistical methods in measuring the impact of economic education and initiated a steady stream of research papers on a subject that previously had not been explored
