Exploring family business. Culture and values as a competitive advantage Iaroslava Blyshchuk,2017-03-10 Master s Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 1 TU Bergakademie Freiberg language English abstract Family businesses significantly contribute to the economy employment rate and development of every country around the globe However academic research on family businesses is relatively young and diversified Therefore this thesis conducts a report on the literature based analysis on family business issues with a focus on culture and values in a strategic management perspective The aim of this paper is to examine family businesses characteristics and to recognize their uniqueness in terms of culture values and behaviour The main themes of the research are the following in depth analysis of prior family business research on family business definition issues key family business features in the contrast to non family businesses family business system characteristics family business influence family business organizational culture and the influence of national culture on family business performance The research methodology employs qualitative research including selection discussion and comparing relevant family business theoretical and empirical studies The findings are used to extend the insights of the family business research on fundamental management and communication theories and to provide a concept of family business organizational culture on the micro and macro level of analysis for potential future research in the family business practice Lifting the Eyepatch. The Business Models of Piracy Hans-Christian Stockfisch,2020-12-02 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2017 in the subject Economics Finance grade cum laude Helmut Schmidt University University of the Federal Armed Forces Hamburg Finanzwissenschaft language English abstract The purpose of this dissertation is to lift the eyepatch to visualize the different business models of piracy without self imposed limitations to lay the foundation for a more profound and comprehensive research approach To overcome this blind spot pirates are not morally judged for their criminal behavior but considered as equal entrepreneurs of the economy Instead of insinuating pirates to rush at single hijackings to make quick money desperately they are believed to run professional companies which base on sophisticated and repeatable business models This impartial assumption makes the topic assessable by macro and microeconomic tools and models Furthermore this approach allows analyzing the subject from a pirate s perspective From this opposite viewpoint an economic assessment facilitates the identification of framework factors which have been responsible for the emergence and development of piracy in general In a next step the application of business models helps to reveal further relevant factors which trigger the internal procedures of the piracy companies running a business in the hotspots of South East Asia West Africa and East Africa These deduced elements will then be illustrated in an explorative qualitative cause and effect model to visualize their interrelation and the corresponding processes between them which ultimately lead to the feasibility assessment of piracy businesses These visualized business models can be used as templates for further research objectives and enable academics to take the perspective of criminal entrepreneurs to reveal new insights and weak spots of illegal business models in general These findings could be used to tighten effective counter measures which may not have been considered up to now Metaphorically speaking this dissertation aims at revealing the concealed treasure map which contains the secret core factors and processes determining the feasibility of the criminal business and thereby the ultimate rationale of the emergence of professional piracy per se

The preparation of business plans and their use in monitoring insolvency triggers ,2018-04-20 Seminar paper from the year 2017 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 2 0 University of M nster language English abstract How are business plans used and integrated in grown businesses to effectively support top management decision making in terms of monitoring for insolvency triggers To answer this question the paper starts defining relevant terms and the conceptual background referring to management information systems business planning and corporate insolvency Afterwards it captures how business plans should be tailored according to the top management s needs based on the management information system Ultimately the paper s target is to show the implications of business planning and critically discuss how business plans can support the top management in establishing the financial plan required for monitoring insolvency triggers

Leveraging Embedded Factors of Business Ecosystems. A Potential Driver for Business Model Innovations ,2021-05-20 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 00 Catholic University Eichst tt Ingolstadt language English abstract This thesis aims to identify business ecosystem s embedded factors as potential drivers for business model innovations and thus to contribute to an expansion of innovation opportunities In the context of the consideration of different ecosystem concepts first their characteristics and roles are presented to make a precise distinction related and traditional structures e g value network supply chain Innovation ecosystems business ecosystems and platform ecosystems are considered in this study and empirically examined employing a multiple case study To ensure the value of the study only companies that have implemented a business model innovation within one of the defined ecosystems were included Innovations within the value chain of a single company can no longer fully satisfy new and dynamic customer needs. It is therefore appropriate to intensify the network of relationships outside the company. This is remedied by the value contribution resulting from the companies ecosystems which is higher than that of individual companies. However in the ecosystem s environment the success of a company is strongly dependent on the success of its diverse and changing collaborations with other companies of different sizes and types. Due to the embedding in different ecosystems the understanding of a company as an independent strategic actor is no longer appropriate in every case. Canadian Almanac & Driectory, 2014 Tannys Williams,2013-10 The Canadian Almanac Directory is the most complete source of Canadian information available cultural professional and financial institutions legislative governmental judicial and educational organizations Canada s authoritative sourcebook for al Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations,2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events Good Housekeeping Magazine ,1916 Voluntourism as a Business Concept. Organisational Objectives, Product Range, Realisation as well as Economic and Social Impacts in the Target Regions Marja Elisat,2025-01-02 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject Business economics Market research grade 1 0 University of Applied Sciences D sseldorf Betriebswirtschaft language English abstract The trend of sustainability fairness and quest for meaning can also be seen in tourism. People are looking for social engagement and a deeper meaning for their holidays. The tourism industry has long since reacted to this desire. As a niche market voluntourism constitutes an alternative to mass tourism and has recorded a high quantitative and qualitative dynamism since the beginning of the 21st century. An increasing number of tourism providers see a viable economic potential in voluntourism. As a hybrid form of international voluntary service and tourism it is designed as a bookable touristic offer and marketed within a competitive sector although it is intended to serve a charitable purpose. The programmes which were originally small scale are marketed commercially by professional tourism operators. Thus being adapted to market principles and controversial basic elements such as the adventure of the holidays on the one hand and the meaningful work on the other. Consequently this trend reflects touristification and commercialisation. This thesis will explore voluntourism from a different angle by studying the various providers in the German market and their business concepts regarding their product ranges marketing and realisation Studies in Income and Wealth ,1937 Malaysian Accounting Case Studies Zarina Zakaria,2017
