Caps 2014 Physical Science Studyguide:

Alpine Physics: Science In The Mountain Environment Valerio Faraoni, 2019-05-23 This unique volume applies physics and basic science to the mountain environment and is written in a non technical language for curious laypeople who wonder why or how natural phenomena happen and what their scientific explanation may be The book discusses physics in a non specialized way Alpine Physics is mostly organized in categories relevant for non scientists with an interest in alpine environments Intuitive decision making is often just grounded in plain common sense to which mountain and nature lovers relate easily especially when involving high stakes decisions based on the estimation of such a treacherous environment The book highlights how this intuitive decision making can be complemented and augmented by basic scientific knowledge and with better understanding it leads one to become a rational decision maker The book stimulates its readers to reason and discover why things are the way they are at high altitudes where many risk factors are aggravated often dramatically by steep gradients The writing style marries that of the conventional science textbook and that of the informal North American climbing guidebooks

Introduction to Rural Planning Nick Gallent, Iqbal Hamiduddin, Meri Juntti, Sue Kidd, Dave Shaw, 2015-06-30

Introduction to Rural Planning Economies, Communities and Landscapes provides a critical analysis of the key challenges facing rural places and the ways that public policy and community action shape rural spaces. The second edition provides an examination of the composite nature of rural planning which combines land use and spatial planning elements with community action, countryside management and the projects and programmes of national and supra-national agencies and organisations. It also offers a broad analysis of entrepreneurial social action as a shaper of rural outcomes with particular coverage of the localism agenda and Neighbourhood Planning in England. With a focus on accessibility and rural transport provision, this book examines the governance arrangements needed to deliver integrated solutions spanning urban and rural places. Through an examination of the ecosystem approach to environmental planning, it links the procurement of ecosystem services to the global challenges of habitat degradation and loss, climate change and resource scarcity and management. A valuable resource for students of planning, rural development and rural geography.

Introduction to Rural Planning aims to make sense of current rural challenges and planning approaches, evaluating the currency of the rural label in the context of global urbanisation, arguing that rural spaces are relational spaces characterised by critical production and consumption tensions.

Melt Water Retention Processes in Snow and Firn on Ice Sheets and Glaciers: Observations and Modeling W. Tad Pfeffer, Jason E. Box, Robert S. Fausto, Horst Machguth, 2018-11-08

Melt takes place where the surface of glaciers or ice sheets interacts with the atmosphere. While the processes governing surface melt are fairly well understood, the pathways of the meltwater from its origin to the moment it leaves a glacier system remain enigmatic. It is not even guaranteed that meltwater leaves a glacier or ice sheet. On Greenland, for example, only slightly more than 50% of the meltwater runs off. The remainder mostly refreezes within the so-called firn cover of the ice sheet. This eBook contains 11 studies which tackle the challenge of understanding meltwater retention in snow and firn from various angles. The studies focus both on mountain glaciers and on the Greenland ice sheet and address challenges such as measuring firn properties, quantifying their influence on meltwater retention, modelling firn processes and meltwater refreezing, as well as unravelling the mechanisms within the recently discovered Greenland firn aquifers.
