- Prepare and present a technical report to a diverse group.
- Configure a wireless router to support the requirements of a small business environment.

Background / Preparation

You have just successfully completed the first course in the CCNA-Discovery series and have obtained a contract position at a small advertising company called AnyCompany Corporation to help them update their IT resources. The company originally started with two partners who produced print flyers for local businesses. Their list of customers has greatly expanded, and their customers are demanding more interactive advertising media, including video presentations. The partners recognize the business potential in this new market and have hired you to review their existing IT resources and produce a proposal that allows the company to take advantage of this new market. The partners have stated that if the proposal meets their requirements, they may hire you full-time to implement and manage these new resources.

Step 1: Gather information and determine customer requirements

You now have an idea of the scope of the project that you have undertaken, but do not have all of the information required to proceed. The first step in any IT project is to gather information. What is really required? What are the budget and the time frame to complete this project? What restrictions, if any, are there in equipment and resource selection? What resources are currently in place? The more information that you gather at the beginning of any project, the better.

A good way to start the information gathering process is to conduct interviews with the key individuals within the company, who are usually divided into three main groups: managers, end users, and IT support. Each group can provide valuable information.

Managers — Managers can answer questions regarding budget, expectations, and future plans. Any IT solution must take into account the plans that the company may have for growth, either in the number of employees or the technology being deployed. Managers can also provide you with information regarding company policies that may affect the proposed solution. Policies could include such things as access, security, and privacy requirements.

The following information is normally gathered from managers:

- Budget
- Requirements and expectations
- Restrictions
- Staffing
- Future growth
