

Current Good Manufacturing practices

- * Current good manufacturing practices regulations are established by FDA to ensure that minimum standards are met for drug product quality in united states as well as in other countries throughout the world.
- * cGMP regulations establish requirements for all aspects of pharmaceutical manufacture. They apply to domestic and to foreign suppliers and manufacturers whose bulk components and finished pharmaceutical products are imported, distributed, or sold in this country.
- * To ensure compliance, FDA inspects the facilities and production records of all firms covered by these regulations.
