Curriculum Vitae Definition Latin:

Discrimination in Latin America Hugo opo,Alberto Chong,Andrea Moro,2009-12-03 While there is a strongly held belief that Latin American societies are highly discriminatory the economic profession has found relatively little evidence for this perception and until recently other social sciences had prevailed in the discussion of this timely and relevant topic The development of new tools for analyzing the economic mechanisms underlying discrimination however has opened up several avenues for research This book presents a set of studies on contemporary discrimination in Latin America that takes advantage of these new tools by focusing on social interactions that range from cooperation group formation and the impact of migration in poor families to specific markets such as housing and labor The techniques applied include traditional regression analysis experimental approaches and audit studies as well as structural methods This wide range of analytical approaches leads to findings that confirm some of the common perceptions regarding discrimination but challenge the conventional wisdom in other regards In some instances the long held conventional wisdom may not hold at all Latin Americans do not discriminate more or less than inhabitants of other regions and the discrimination that does occur appears largely to stem from lack of information on individuals a result of great interest in colleges and universities that teach courses on Latin American development both at the undergraduate and graduate level Furthermore this book s findings extend to the political arena as they challenge standard policies that have been ineffective for decades Finally this book should be of interest to researchers as the empirical methods employed are at the vanguard of the profession In fact in addition to the contribution that this volume makes to the literature on discrimination it also has the potential to contribute more broadly to labor economics development economics and experimental economics as well as to Latin American studies

The (Latin) American Scene, Present and Future (Im-)Perfect Fernando G Herrero,2025-04-01 The volume includes a prologue and an epilogue Each chapter constitutes an extensive interview with one of these colleagues Chapter one Mignolo colonial and postcolonial dimensions since the Early Modern colonial period circa 1500 and the legacy of post structuralism in American academia Crucial notion of the colonial difference vis vis the critical interrogation of the category of West Chapter two John Beverley we are dealing with the insertion of postmodernism cultural studies and subaltern studies and also the insertion of the sign Baroque inside American life Chapter three Adorno we are dealing with avatars of colonial studies of Latin America in the Home of the Brave particularly in relation to the work that defines her on the historical figure of Guaman Poma de Ayala Chapter four Rabasa we are dealing with the themes of epistemic violence apropos Precolombian legacies the historical relations between Mexico and the United States and the implications of subaltern studies Chapter five Gonz lez Echevarra in marked contrast with what has preceded we are dealing with the vindication of pleasure in literary and cultural criticism and repudiations of politics or ideology within rich historical continuities between Spain and Latin America There are at least five different nationalities Argentina American Mexican Cuban Spaniard and more than five
