

Academic CV Guidelines

The Do's and Don'ts

An academic CV is based on the Chronological CV format. However, the two-page limit need not apply to academic applications due to the addition of supporting information relating to detail of your PhD and other related research. An academic CV can therefore be many pages in length, depending on your experience in the work place – five pages is the rough guideline to average length.

Your CV needs to be a powerful marketing document which markets you to a prospective employer. Competition is just as fierce in the academic world as it is in industry and business. Remember that it is important to realise that the purpose of a CV is not to get a job, but to get shortlisted for an INTERVIEW.

Preparation before writing your CV is key to your success. Match the content of your CV to the needs of the particular institution you are applying to. No application will be the same, so it is a good idea to prepare a master CV which you can adapt for any application you make. All jobs are different and you need to demonstrate that you are the best fit for that job.

Have you researched the department and studied their website, familiarised yourself with staff biographies and research profiles, and noted where your area of research might fit?

Your CV will be written to include the requirements of the classic format, but will also need the following information:

- PhD extract – and perhaps a more detailed synopsis
- Past, current and future research interests
- Published research and articles
- Research methodologies and techniques
- Teaching experience – student supervision
- Administrative skills
- Conferences attended – did you present?
- Funding and awards
- Professional memberships
- Any industry contact

Do's:

1. Use 14 font for your name and 11 font for the rest of your CV. Use Ariel or another clear font style – why not look at Tahoma or Verdana as alternatives.
2. Capitalise and bold your major headings and use bold for any sub-headings
3. Write your name on the top of each sheet you write – do not staple your pages together
4. One font style is enough
5. Be crisp and concise
6. Be appropriate to your situation
7. Make it attractive and appealing to the eye
8. Write in statements – bullet points are most effective
9. Avoid using the word 'I'
10. Use action/power words at the beginning of each statement (See end of this section for examples)
