Bauhaus Weaving Theory From Feminine Craft To Mode Of Design:

Bauhaus Weaving Theory T'ai Lin Smith, 2014 The Bauhaus school has been understood through the writings of its founding director Walter Gropius and several artists who taught there Far less recognised are texts written by women in the school s weaving workshop It was here that a modernist theory of weaving emerged an investigation of its material elements loom practice and functional applications The women harnessed the vocabulary of other disciplines painting architecture or photography to take a profound step in the recognition of weaving as a medium specific craft one that could be compared to and differentiated from others

Bauhaus Weaving Theory T'ai Smith, 2014-11-01 The Bauhaus school in Germany has long been understood through the writings of its founding director Walter Gropius and well known artists who taught there such as Wassily Kandinsky and L szl Moholy Nagy Far less recognized are texts by women in the school s weaving workshop In Bauhaus Weaving Theory T ai Smith uncovers new significance in the work the Bauhaus weavers did as writers From colorful expressionist tapestries to the invention of soundproofing and light reflective fabric the workshop s innovative creations influenced a modernist theory of weaving In the first careful examination of the writings of Bauhaus weavers including Anni Albers Gunta St zl and Otti Berger Smith details how these women challenged assumptions about the feminine nature of their craft As they harnessed the vocabulary of other disciplines like painting architecture and photography Smith argues the weavers resisted modernist thinking about distinct media In parsing texts about tapestries and functional textiles the vital role these women played in debates about medium in the twentieth century and a nuanced history of the Bauhaus comes to light Bauhaus Weaving Theory deftly reframes the Bauhaus weaving workshop as central to theoretical inquiry at the school Putting questions of how value and legitimacy are established in the art world into dialogue with the limits of modernism Smith confronts the belief that the crafts are manual and technical but never intellectual arts

Craft Consciousness and Artistic Practice in Creative Writing Ben Ristow, 2022-02-10 Craft lives inside the artist and it operates in the mind not in standards or techniques Creative writers navigate thresholds in consciousness as they develop their arts practice Craft Consciousness and Artistic Practice in Creative Writing explores what it is to be an artist as it traces radical feminist and culturally embedded traditions in craft The new term craft consciousness identifies the nexus from which writers explore making processes and practitioner knowledge Writers as with all artists create and reimagine themselves anew and it is in this perpetual state of becoming that they find ways to enlarge their sense of artistry through an exploration of forms processes and mediums beyond the written word For writers this book initiates a reexamination of the mission of creative writing through disrupting patriarchal racist colonialist ableist and capitalist associations with dominant craft Drawing from twenty five interviews with living artists outside of writing and in a host of fields from conceptual art to leatherwork and dance the book shines a light on how the processes associated with craft are embodied Craft is an internalized matrix it need not be commodified for the marketplace or codified in the standards necessitated by institutions of higher education By redesigning writing workshops and MFA PhD programs through craft consciousness new potentials and collaborations emerge and it becomes more conceivable to imagine dynamic inclusive relationships between writers scientists and other artists

the most important and influential woman artists working at midcentury Anni Albers 1899 1994 was a German textile designer weaver and printmaker and among the leading pioneers of 20th century modernism Although she has heavily influenced generations of artists and designers her contribution to modernist art history has been comparatively overlooked especially in relation to that of her husband Josef In this groundbreaking and beautifully illustrated volume Albers's most important works are examined to fully explore and redefine her contribution to 20th century art and design and highlight her significance as an artist in her own right Featured works from her early activity at the Bauhaus as well as from her time at Black Mountain College and spanning her entire fruitful career include wall hangings designs for commercial use drawings and studies jewelry and prints Essays by international experts focus on key works and themes relate aspects of Albers's practice to her seminal texts On Designing and On Weaving and identify broader contextual material including examples of the Andean textiles that Albers collected and in which she found inspiration for her understanding of woven thread as a form of language Illuminating Albers's skill as a weaver her material awareness and her deep understanding of art and design this publication celebrates an artist of enormous importance and showcases the timeless nature of her creativity Objects in

Exile Robin Schuldenfrei, 2024-01-23 An innovative new history of how the migration of designers in the 20th century shaped modernist art and architecture Design Dispersed Burcu Dogramaci, Kerstin Pinther, 2019 Design Dispersed pursues the complex and heterogeneous connections between migration and design in the 20th and 21st centuries The edited volume gathers contributions by international researchers and curators on the question of how design practices and historical objects articulate respond to and critically reflect on migration flight and displacement Besides a collage which highlights the aesthetic effects resulting from the networking overlapping and mixing of forms another strand of the book looks at the political and social dimensions of design How are design objects material modes of a critical inquiry on movements of people and things What role do object trajectories play in the migr movements of the 1930s and 1940s Other texts follow the question of how migrants and refugees form their experience and political fight for acceptance into design and architectural productions A final essay contributes to wordings and projections what vocabulary do we need in order to adequately think and write about a design dispersed Sheila Hicks: Lifelines Centre Georges Pompidou, 2018 An admirer of pre Columbian textiles the artist uses large sculptures as well as miniature weaves to create tapestries that bring their color to life

Women's Work Sigrid Weltge-Wortmann, 1993 Resurrecting the work of gifted craftswomen too long denied their place as pioneers in their field Women's Work Textile Art from the Bauhaus unearths a missing chapter in the story of the most important institution in the history of modern design The Bauhaus defined modern design in the twentieth century As the preeminent design phenomenon of the era almost every aspect of it has been minutely examined Yet the Weaving Workshop the longest standing and most successful of all Bauhaus workshops has been neglected for one simple reason when the first wave of brilliantly talented women arrived at the school they soon discovered that Bauhaus founder Walter Gropius could not sustain his ringing declaration of equality between the beautiful and the strong gender Textiles in the hierarchy of art and design were to be women s work Their results however were remarkable both in the early days of artistic expression in Weimar and in later developments in the textile industry The craftswomen responded to the demands of advanced technology with fabrics that incorporated new or unusual materials such as Cellophane leather and early synthetics which had acoustic and light reflecting properties They produced multi layered fabrics cloths with double and triple weaves and later made extensive use of the jacquard loom The result was a rebirth of hand weaving and new professionalism in designing textiles for mass production In this model study superlatively documented with rare or little seen photographs of the textiles and their makers Sigrid Wortmann Weltge captures the heady atmosphere of creative excitement at the Bauhaus Original archival research and interviews both with survivors and their students and with leading contemporary designers detail the workshop s history and its enduring legacy When the Nazis closed the institution in 1933 its members dispersed to Switzerland Holland England France Russia Mexico and throughout the United States their ideals and influence live on in marvelous fabrics still being produced today BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Otti Berger Bauhaus-Archiv Berlin / Museum für Gestaltung, Judith Raum, 2025-06-27 Otti Berger created fabrics that fundamentally changed the understanding of what textiles could be and do A core member of the experimental approach to textiles at the Bauhaus she was also a female entrepreneur in the frenzied time that was the early 1930s in Berlin Working closely with architects of the New Objectivity movement such as Lilly Reich Ludwig Hilberseimer and Hans Scharoun she designed upholstery and wall tapestries curtains and floor coverings that responded to novel types of use and production methods and thereby redefined the relationship between aesthetics and function with fascinating results To date Berger s textile work has only been explored in fragments This book is the first comprehensive study of its complexity and beauty and makes her hitherto unpublished treatise on fabrics and the methodology of textile production accessible Raum s research offers an entirely new perspective on Berger s oeuvre OTTI BERGER 1898 1944 was one of the most important textile designers of the 20th century Born in Zmajevac in the Austro Hungarian Empire present day Croatia she studied in Zagreb and from 1927 at the Bauhaus in Dessau Leaving her teaching post at the Bauhaus she set up her own business in Berlin in 1932 to design fabrics for modern interiors but was banned from working due to her Jewish heritage in 1936 Attempts to escape to England and the USA failed She was deported from Croatia to Auschwitz and was murdered there in 1944 In cooperation with the Bauhaus Archive Berlin visual artist and art historian JUDITH RAUM 1977 has conducted intensive research in European and North American archives to complete the first comprehensive study of Berger s scattered estate

Bauhaus Textiles Sigrid Weltge-Wortmann, 1998 When talented female students arrived to study at the Bauhaus they soon discovered that the founder of the school Walter Gropius was not strictly adhering to his original declaration of equality between men and women In the hierarchy of art and design it was textiles that were deemed to be women s work

Nevertheless the new weavers responded to the challenge with remarkable virtuosity pouring all their artistic energy and talent into this new field of interest Eagerly embracing advanced technology they incorporated new or unusual materials such as Cellophane leather and early synthetics creating reversible fabrics which had acoustic and light reflecting properties They produced multi layered cloths some with double and triple weaves and later made extensive use of the jacquard loom The result was a rebirth of hand weaving and a new professionalism in designing textiles for mass production In this model study superbly illustrated with rare or little seen photographs of the works themselves Sigrid Wortmann Weltge recreates the atmosphere of creative excitement at the Bauhaus Original archival research and interviews with survivors and their students as well as with leading contemporary designers detail the workshop's history and its enduring legacy marvellous fabrics still being produced today Bauhaus Textiles unearths the missing chapter in the story of the most important institution in the history of modern design The Bauhaus Weaving Workshop, 1987 On Weaving Anni

Albers, 2003-01-01 This survey of textile fundamentals and methods written by the foremost textile artist of the 20th century covers hand weaving and the loom fundamental construction and draft notation modified and composite weaves early techniques of thread interlacing interrelation of fiber and construction tactile sensibility and design 9 color illustrations 112 black and white plates The Bauhaus weaving workshop Sonja Flavin, 1987 Bauhaus Weaving Workshop, 1987

Craft Becomes Modern Regina Bittner, Renée Padt, 2017 With all the hammering planing sawing and weaving the workshops at the Bauhaus Dessau must have been quite loud and dusty This publication looks at the Bauhaus from the perspective of handcraft no term was more fiercely disputed there The workshops were transit spaces between factory and craft business between free experiments and industrial contract work From this field of tension the Bauhaus tried to define handcraft a new as a utopia but also in coexistence with industrial culture Contemporary design theorists and practitioners position themselves regarding how current these debates once again are today and provide new insights for understanding handcraft in the 21st century Celebrating the work of iconic figures from the Bauhaus era including Walter Gropius Marcel Breuer Josef Albers László Moholy Nagy and Naum Gabo In its summary the catalogue also features interviews with and the work of various contemporary designers who have been inspired by the Bauhaus ethos including the Turner Prize winning collective Assemble Natsai Audrey Chieza and Opendesk This catalogue is produced as part of a series of special exhibitions at Bauhaus Dessau Foundation in the build up to the Bauhaus Centenary 2019 Published on the occasion of the exhibition Craft Becomes Modern The Bauhaus in the Making at Stiftung Bauhaus Dessau 13 April 2017 7 January 2018 English edition

The Bauhaus Reassessed Gillian Naylor, 1985 Their work and theory are described here with a new insight as is the development of the school through all its vicissitudes from its foundation in 1919 until its final dissolution under Hitler

Beyond the Loom Orli Hakanoglu, 2016 Nearly 100 years ago the Bauhaus the German school of architecture design and art opened its doors to its students Known for its radical social and artistic experimentation the design and theory that came from the school is still relevant today The Bauhaus was founded during a critical moment of social change one shaped by the horrors of the Great War by Germany's defeat and by its economic and political restructuring The Bauhaus promoted a spirit of equality through its curriculum and output Yet the agenda of equality did not reach so far as to eliminate the distinctions between women and men at the Bauhaus While women were accepted into the school their exclusion from all workshops other than the weaving workshop indicates a clear division of sexes My research considers the life work and writing of Anni Albers a student of the Bauhaus whose woven and graphic work is celebrated today This paper provides a brief background on the historic relationship of gender weaving and status before focusing specifically on Albers In light of the barring of women from architecture I consider her work as an strategic intervention with the framework of limitations posed by being a woman at the Bauhaus identifying ways in which she asserted the importance of her craft aligning it with modern design principles of the Bauhaus A strong connection exists between Albers theoretical writing and the principles of modern architecture as well as a number of discourses of architectural theory These connections illustrate Albers attempts to break down gender barriers and carve out a voice for her medium and by extension for women in the modernist movement In addition to this written thesis I have also created a Studio Art installation at the Jewett Arts Center related to Anni Albers work in textiles and their relationship to Architecture The installation responds to my research by exploring some of Albers theories at the architectural scale
