Butte In 75 Defining A Community:

Butte In 75 Montana Standard, 2014-12-12 Take a walk through time encompassing 75 extraordinary people places and object that make Butte one of the most unique and wonderful places to live With a rich history and beautiful setting see why the Richest Hill on Earth is one of the best places to live Ceramics and Community Organization among the Hohokam David R. Abbott, 2016-12-01 Among desert farmers of the prehistoric Southwest irrigation played a crucial role in the development of social complexity This innovative study examines the changing relationship between irrigation and community organization among the Hohokam and shows through ceramic data how that dynamic relationship influenced sociopolitical development David Abbott contends that reconstructions of Hohokam social patterns based solely on settlement pattern data provide limited insight into prehistoric social relationships By analyzing ceramic exchange patterns he provides complementary information that challenges existing models of sociopolitical organization among the Hohokam of central Arizona Through ceramic analyses from Classic period sites such as Pueblo Grande Abbott shows that ceramic production sources and exchange networks can be determined from the composition surface treatment attributes and size and shape of clay containers The distribution networks revealed by these analyses provide evidence for community boundaries and the web of social ties within them Abbott s meticulous research documents formerly unrecognized horizontal cohesiveness in Hohokam organizational structure and suggests how irrigation was woven into the fabric of their social evolution By demonstrating the contribution that ceramic research can make toward resolving issues about community organization this work expands the breadth and depth of pottery studies in the American Southwest The Forest Garden Greenhouse Jerome Osentowski, 2015 With a revolutionary new Climate Battery design for near net zero heating and cooling By the turn of the nineteenth century thousands of acres of glass houses surrounded large American cities becoming a commonplace symbol of the market garden and nursery trades But the possibilities of the indoor garden to transform our homes and our lives remain largely unrealized In this groundbreaking book Jerome Osentowski one of North America s most accomplished permaculture designers presents a wholly new approach to a very old horticultural subject In The Forest Garden Greenhouse he shows how bringing the forest garden indoors is not only possible but doable on unlikely terrain and in cold climates using near net zero technology Different from other books on greenhouse design and management this book advocates for an indoor agriculture using permaculture design concepts integration multi functions perennials and polycultures that take season extension into new and important territory Osentowski director and founder of Central Rocky Mountain Permaculture Institute CRMPI farms at 7 200 feet on a steep rocky hillside in Colorado incorporating deep holistic permaculture design with practical common sense It is at this site high on a mountaintop where Osentowski along with architect and design partner Michael Thompson has been designing and building revolutionary greenhouses that utilize passive and active solar technology via what they call the climate battery a subterranean air circulation system that takes the hot moist ambient air from the greenhouse during the day stores it in the soil and discharges it at night that can offer tropical and Mediterranean climates at similarly high altitudes and in cold climates and everywhere else Osentowski's greenhouse designs which can range from the backyard homesteader to commercial greenhouses are completely ecological and use a simple design that traps hot and cold air and regulates it for best possible use The book is part case study of the amazing greenhouses at CRMPI and part how to primer for anyone interested in a more integrated model for growing food and medicine in a greenhouse With detailed design drawings photos and profiles of successful greenhouse projects on all scales this inspirational manual will considerably change the conversation about greenhouse design

Great House Communities across the Chacoan Landscape John Kantner, Nancy M. Mahoney, 2000-03-01 Beginning in the tenth century Chaco Canyon emerged as an important center whose influence shaped subsequent cultural developments throughout the Four Corners area of the American Southwest Archaeologists investigating the prehistory of Chaco Canyon have long been impressed by its massive architecture evidence of widespread trading activities and ancient roadways that extended across the region Research on Chaco Canyon today is focused on what the remains indicate about the social political and ideological organization of the Chacoan people Communities with great houses located some distance away are of particular interest because determining how and why peripheral areas became associated with the central canyon provides insight into the evolution of the Chacoan tradition This volume brings together twelve chapters by archaeologists who suggest that the relationship between Chaco Canyon and outlying communities was not only complex but highly variable Their new research reveals that the most distant groups may have simply appropriated Chacoan symbolism for influencing local social and political relationships whereas many of the nearest communities appear to have interacted closely with the central canyon perhaps even living there on a seasonal basis The multifaceted approach taken by these authors provides different and refreshing perspectives on Chaco Their contributions offer new insight into what a Chacoan community is and shed light on the nature of interactions among prehistoric communities
