

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space weapons and launch them?	That U.S. suspend the prohibition of launching nuclear weapons.	Not really.
2. Would anyone benefit from the launch and retrieval of satellites?	They would certainly gain useful information about our world. They would improve military air and sea intelligence.	They might develop better intelligence about the Soviet Union and its military strength, planned attacks, and conduct of internal communications.
3. Would anyone disagree with this?	Not really.	Some might be uneasy about our dependence on the Soviets.
4. Would the two nations agree to launch and retrieve satellites?	Yes. The governments had no objection. There was no moral obstacle.	The American public was concerned we would not take advantage of the Soviets.

2. Suppose the agreement simply set up the program, without these (other) provisions. What would the program do that would give Soviet satellites the best of both worlds? What would the Americans gain without the Soviet U.S. launching the launch and retrieval?
