History of Techniques Guillaume Carnino, Xavier Guchet, 2025-11-27 Over the past thirty years the history of technology has been so extensively renewed that many once canonical narratives have been invalidated This collective work takes account of several of these major recompositions ancient periods were never eras of technical stagnation techniques are not diffused but interpenetrate and reinvent themselves as they travel invention is not an individual epiphany but a gradual and often collective process far from neutral the material is endowed with its own agentivity the notions of capitalism gender and the environment are fertile contributions to the history of techniques and have served to invalidate many naiveties These recent works have put an end to the discontinuous vision of a history made up of straightforward technical ruptures in favor of more complex descriptions that provide a better grasp of the real dynamics of today's world

Uberization and Overexploitation Sophie Bernard, 2025-11-19 This book examines uberization from below by focusing on three major cities Paris London and Montreal and on the individual situations of Uber drivers to analyse the deployment of racial platform capitalism Racialized men are over represented among Uber drivers and the book argues that this is no coincidence the platform exploits their relegation to a subordinate material and symbolic position within the social order to gain access to the labour reserve it needs to operate At the same time this essential but unwanted labour force must accept the degraded working and employment conditions offered This book will be of interest to students and scholars of the sociology of work and the platform economy L'humain en jeu Jean-Louis
