Pacific Symposium on Biocomputing 2009, Kohala Coast, Hawaii, USA, 5-9 January 2009 Russ Altman, 2009 The Pacific Symposium on Biocomputing PSB 2009 is an international multidisciplinary conference for the presentation and discussion of current research in the theory and application of computational methods in problems of biological significance. Presentations are rigorously peer reviewed and are published in an archival proceedings volume. PSB 2009 will be held on January 5-9, 2009 in Kamuela, Hawaii. Tutorials will be offered prior to the start of the conference. PSB 2009 will bring together top researchers from the US, the Asian Pacific nations and around the world to exchange research results and address open issues in all aspects of computational biology. It is a forum for the presentation of work in databases, algorithms, interfaces, visualization, modeling and other computational methods as applied to biological problems with emphasis on applications in data rich areas of molecular biology. The PSB has been designed to be responsive to the need for critical mass in sub disciplines within biocomputing. For that reason it is the only meeting whose sessions are defined dynamically each year in response to specific proposals. PSB sessions are organized by leaders of research in biocomputing's hot topics. In this way the meeting provides an early forum for serious examination of emerging methods and approaches in this rapidly changing field.

Sleep and Chronobiology in Plasticity and Memory Jason Robert Gerstner, H. Craig Heller, Sara J. Aton, 2016-01-15 Chronobiological mechanisms regulating time of day mediated behaviors such as sleep and circadian rhythms are thought to interact with and/or share cellular and molecular signaling cascades that shape synaptic plasticity and neural excitability. These same factors are also known to underlie events that govern higher order cognitive processing including learning and memory formation and often through phylogenetically conserved pathways. This suggests that factors which contribute to adaptive responses to changing environmental stimuli are likely derived from basic evolutionarily ancient processes and underscores the importance of using both invertebrate and vertebrate models to study the interaction of chronobiology and cognitive processing This issue highlights current views along with original research on sleep and circadian features of plasticity and memory in multiple species models and systems Remote Sensing of Water Resources, Disasters, and Urban Studies Ph.D., Prasad S. Thenkabail, 2015-10-02 This book is the most comprehensive documentation of the scientific and methodological advances that have taken place in understanding remote sensing data methods and applications over last 50 years In a very practical way it demonstrates the experience utility methods and models used in studying a wide array of water applications There are more than 100 leading global experts in the field contributing to this work Biocomputing 2009 - Proceedings Of The Pacific Symposium Russ B Altman, A Keith Dunker, Lawrence Hunter, Tiffany A Jung, Teri E Klein, 2008-11-28 The Pacific Symposium on Biocomputing PSB 2009 is an international multidisciplinary conference for the presentation and discussion of current research in the theory and application of computational methods in problems of biological significance Presentations are rigorously peer reviewed and are published in an archival proceedings volume PSB 2009 will be held on January 5-9 2009 in Kamuela Hawaii Tutorials will be offered prior to the start of the conference PSB 2009 will bring together top researchers from the US the Asian Pacific nations and around the world to exchange research results and address open issues in all aspects of computational biology It is a forum for the presentation of work in databases algorithms interfaces visualization modeling and other computational methods as applied to biological problems with emphasis on applications in data rich areas of molecular biology The PSB has been designed to be responsive to the need for critical mass in sub disciplines within biocomputing For that reason it is the only meeting whose sessions are defined dynamically each year in response to specific proposals PSB sessions are organized by leaders of research in biocomputing s hot topics In this way the meeting provides an early forum for serious examination of emerging methods and approaches in this rapidly changing field Kimball's Dairy Farmer, 1917 Nutritional and Environmental Modulation of the Endocrine System: Effects on Metabolism and Growth Oliana Carnevali, Encarnación Capilla, 2019-11-05 The present eBook is the result of the Frontiers Research Topic entitled Nutritional and environmental modulation of the endocrine system effects on metabolism and growth It contains 12 chapters comprising 7 original research articles 3 reviews and 2 minireviews The objective of the Research Topic was to provide a multidisciplinary approach of cutting edge research on metabolism and growth aiming to address key questions about the interplay between nutritional environmental or other external factors i e temperature or pollutants and signals modulating feed intake with the endocrine system regulating these processes Evidences about the molecular principle behind the complex interactions of all these factors on the control of the endocrine and nervous systems regulating the metabolic process are presented The knowledge provided by this eBook focusing in cells model organisms and farmed species have highlighted the importance of dietary and environmental factors
