the struggle to reclaim his life after being severely burned as a Marine lieutenant in Vietnam In January 1967 Robert Timberg was a short timer counting down the days until his combat tour ended He had thirteen days to go when his vehicle struck a Viet Cong land mine resulting in third degree burns of his face and much of his body He survived barely then began the arduous battle back determined to build a new life and make it matter Remarkable as was his return to health he endured no less than thirty five operations perhaps more remarkable was his decision to reinvent himself as a journalist one of the most public of professions Blue Eyed Boy is a gripping occasionally comic account of what it took for an ambitious man aware of his frightful appearance but hungry for meaning and accomplishment to master a new craft amid the pitying stares and shocked reactions of many he encountered on a daily basis Timberg was at the top of his game as White House correspondent for The Baltimore Sun when suddenly his work brought his life full circle the Iran Contra scandal broke At its heart were three fellow Naval Academy graduates and Vietnam era veterans Timberg s coverage of that story resulted in his first book The Nightingale s Song a powerful work of narrative nonfiction that follows the three academy graduates most deeply involved in Iran Contra Oliver North among them as well as two other well known Navy men John McCain and James Webb from the academy through Vietnam and into the Reagan years In Blue Eyed Boy Timberg relates how he came to know these five men and how their stories helped him understand the ways the Vietnam War and the furor that swirled around it continue to haunt the nation even now nearly four decades after its dismal conclusion Timberg is no saint and he has traveled a hard and often bitter road
