

CONTROL PANEL ASSEMBLY

The control panel assembly (Figure 2-1) consist of two panels, the Operator Panel and the Switch Panel.

Dependent on site requirements, the Operator Panel is either mounted on the control panel assembly (full-featured) as shown in Figure 2-1 or contained in a separate enclosure and mounted remotely of the control panel assembly.

The function of several buttons on the control panel will vary dependent on the location of the control panel (remote or local of the control panel assembly). If the function differs, it is noted as either "remote" or "local operator panel" in the button description.

Operator Panel

The operator panel contains the following components:

Analog AC Metering Panel: This panel simultaneously displays 3-phase line to line AC volts and current, kW, power factor and frequency.

The meter panel is composed of a series of LEDs, that are configured in bar graphs for each function. The LEDs are color coded, with green indicating normal range values, amber for warning levels and red for shutdown conditions.

Scales for each function are in % of nominal values. Resolution is 1% for values close to nominal, and increases at values further from nominal.

Graphical Display: The graphical display is capable of displaying up to 9-lines of data with approximately 27 characters per line. The display is used to view the menus of the menu-driven operating system.

The top three lines of the graphical display contain the following control information in the order described:

- State Line – modes of operation, such as Stopped, Time Delay To Start, Warm Up At Idle, etc. (see Figure 2-2), and paralleling operations, such as Standby, Dead BUS Close, Synchronize, Load Share and Load Govern.
- Action Line – system actions, such as Warning, Derate, Shutdown Cool-down and Shutdown, and fault codes.
- Description Line – Fault code messages.

Display Menu Selection Buttons: Six momentary buttons—three on each side of the graphical display window—are used to navigate through the system control menus and to adjust generator set parameters. The button is active when the message adjacent to the button is highlighted (displayed in inverse video).
