Better Help Manual Self Vision:

Improve Your Eyesight Naturally Leo Angart, 2007 Leo's approach is very specific. You will find exercises that work for your degree of vision problem. He explains how you can tone your eye muscles, release tension, and build up energy to regain your natural eyesight with simple exercises. The book includes simple vision tests that you can use yourself to verify your level of vision and monitor your improvement. Leo Angart's Vision Training approach is effective for Near sight (the inability to see at a distance), Astigmatism (uneven stress pattern in the cornea), Presbyopia (the need for reading glasses), Eye coordination (when the eyes point beyond or closer than the object of interest), Anisometropia (when the two eyes have different degrees of visual ability), Amblyopia (also known as lazy eye, a condition where the brain switches off the input from one eye), Strabismus (when one eye diverges either in or out). Book jacket      How the Brain Processes Multimodal Technical Instructions Dirk Remley, 2016-12-05 While Aristotle acknowledges the connection between rhetoric, biology, and cognitive abilities, scholarship continues to struggle to integrate the fields of rhetoric and neurobiology. Drawing on recent work in neuro-rhetoric, this book offers a model that integrates multimodal rhetorical theory and multisensory neural processing theory pertaining to cognition and learning. Using existing theories from multimodal rhetoric and specific findings from neurobiological studies, the author develops a model that integrates concepts from both fields, bridging if not uniting them. He also discusses possible applications of the new model with specific case studies related to training and instruction. These applications include various media used in instructional and training contexts such as print, slide shows, videos, simulations, and hands-on training. The book thus introduces concepts of cognitive neuroscience to multimodal rhetorical theory and facilitates theorization combining multimodal rhetoric and multisensory cognition and serves as a vehicle by which readers can better understand the links between multimodal rhetoric and cognitive neuroscience associated with technical communication. Integrating case studies from industry and practice, the text makes explicit connections between academic scholarship and workplace preparation. It also describes how interdisciplinary research can contribute to pharmaceutical research as well as the development of productive instructional materials. Rhetoric is affected by how the brain of any member of a given audience can process information. This book can promote further research, qualitative and quantitative, to develop a better understanding of the relationship between multimodal messages and how the brain processes such information.      There Is No Escape, but That's a Good Thing Dan Costello, 2016-10-13 This book is a spiritual manual of mind tools designed to move the reader past obstacles to their peace, joy, and especially self-realization. This technology allows for not only a more fulfilling life but a better world. The audience will be brought to the book in many ways. Some will come from desperation from the circuitous suffering caused by trying to be fulfilled in the world of form, and some will come from curiosities and the spark of desire. The audience level is anyone who is willing to challenge and move beyond previous thinking into newness. They must be willing to entertain abstract thought and have eyes and ears open for love. The main points are that if we allow for the incorporation of spiritually based tools we can achieve a peace beyond this world and possibly become a conduit for its extension on earth      Autopaedia: Or, Instructions on Personal Education James McCrie,1871      The Manufacturer and Builder Peter Henri Van der Weyde,William Henry Wahl,1893 Billed in early issues as a practical journal of industrial progress this monthly covers a broad range of topics in engineering manufacturing mechanics architecture building etc Later issues say it is devoted to the advancement and diffusion of practical knowledge      Resources in Education ,1987-04
