

Lesson 2: Ratios

Student Outcomes

- Students reinforce their understanding that a ratio is an ordered pair of nonnegative numbers, which are not both zero. Students continue to learn and use the precise language and notation of ratios (e.g., 3: 2, 3 to 2). Students demonstrate their understanding that the order of the pair of numbers in a ratio matters.
- Students create multiple ratios from a context in which more than two quantities are given. Students conceive of real-world contextual situations to match a given ratio.

Classwork

Exercise 1 (5 minutes)

Allow students time to complete the exercise. Students can work in small groups or pairs for the exercise.

Exercise 1

Come up with two examples of ratio relationships that are interesting to you.

- My brother watches twice as much television as I do. The ratio of number of hours he watches in a day to the number of hours I watch in a day is usually 2: 1.*
- For every 2 chores my mom gives my brother, she gives 3 to me. The ratio is 2: 3.*

Allow students to share by writing the examples on the board, being careful to include some of the verbal clues that indicate a ratio relationship: to, for each, for every.

- What are the verbal cues that tell us someone is talking about a ratio relationship?

Exploratory Challenge (30 minutes)

Have students read and study the description of the data in the chart provided in their student materials. Ask students to explain what the chart is about (if possible, without looking back at the description). This strategy encourages students to really internalize the information given as opposed to jumping right into the problem without knowing the pertinent information.

- Based on the survey, should the company order more pink fabric or more orange fabric?
- What is the ratio of the number of bolts of pink fabric to the number of bolts of orange fabric you think the company should order?
- Someone said 5 to 3, and another person said (or my friend said) it would be 3 to 5. Are those the same? Is a ratio of 3 to 5 the same as a ratio of 5 to 3?
- Write a statement that describes the ratio relationship of this 3 to 5 ratio that we have been talking about.
