A. The 6 Rules for Understanding Climate

1-3 move n-s

1. The sun heats the earth unequally. The more perpendicular the rays the more they heat the earth because the heat gets spread at a larger area when it's less perpendicular
 - a. Result: temperature varies with latitude
 - i. Low latitude- more energy, higher temp
 - ii. High latitude- less energy, lower temp
2. The earth heats the air. (atmosphere)
3. Warm air is lighter than cold air (convection).
 - a. Warm - low pressure
 - b. Cold- high pressure
 - c. This will be important for air circulation cells
4. Coriolis force deflects air E or W.

Try to imagine the left half of the image on p-23 but the poles are:

Between 30° N and 30° S are the Northeast and Southeast Trade Winds

Between 30° and 60° N and S are the Westerlies

[Between 60° and 90° N and S the winds blow towards the west]

if you want to really understand, follow the orange dots, they mark the surface

5. Warm air absorbs more moisture than cold air.
 - a. Rising cooling air cannot hold as much moisture so there is a lot of rain at equator, STH is dry (what's sth)
 - b. There is more evaporation at the equator because hot air holds more moisture
6. Water holds energy longer than air
 - a. Water holds heat more than land?? Except that's not in the uh lecture but same thing bc land heats air?

Moors,2014-08-27 Understanding Urban Metabolism addresses the gap between the bio physical sciences and urban planning and illustrates the advantages of accounting for urban metabolism issues in urban design decisions Urban metabolism considers a city as a system and distinguishes between energy and material flows as its components Based on research from the BRIDGE project this book deals with how the urban surface exchanges and transforms energy water carbon and pollutants in cities This book also introduces a new method for evaluating how planning alternatives can modify the physical flows of urban metabolism components and how environmental and socioeconomic components interact The inclusion of sustainability principles into urban planning provides an opportunity to place the new knowledge provided by bio physical sciences at the centre of the planning process but there is a strong need to bridge knowledge and practice as well as for a better dissemination of research results and exchange of best practice This book meets that need and provides the reader with the necessary tools to integrate an understanding of urban metabolism into urban planning practice Future Climate Change Research and Observations ,2008 Marketing Research Parker M.
