DIRECTIONS: the answers to the following questions are found in the reading and class notes. Answer the questions on a SEPARATE sheet of paper.

- Describe how each of the following differs from the congressional to presidential elections:
 - Size
 - Competitiveness
 - People who participate in off-years
 - What candidates can do for the people
- What three factors can explain the high percentage of congressional incumbents who get reelected?
- Why would the winner of a presidential election win by a smaller percentage than the House or the Senate?
- What are five ways you can get mentioned to be a presidential contender?
- Though presidential candidates come from various backgrounds, in general what do voters prefer to see in their candidates?
- Why do position papers have to be written if no one reads them?
- What do incumbents have to do during their elections in order to win?
- If you were an incumbent would you have a better chance of winning reelection in the House or the Senate? Why?
- Without restating the definition what is the difference between Gerrymandering and Malapportionment?
- When does reapportionment happen? What is the purpose of reapportionment?
- From 1990 through 2002 only ten percent of incumbent senators and fewer than five percent of incumbent representatives seeking reelection failed to win renomination. What do these statistics suggest?
- What causes the Sophomore Surge?
- Who must you mobilize in order to win a primary?
- How do these people differ from those who vote in general elections?
- What is the hardest part about running in a general election after running in a primary?
- What is a clothespin vote?
