The Uncounted Sara L.M. Davis, 2020-06-11 In the global race to reach the end of AIDS why is the world slipping off track The answer has to do with stigma money and data Global funding for AIDS response is declining Tough choices must be made some people will win and some will lose Global aid agencies and governments use health data to make these choices While aid agencies prioritize a shrinking list of countries many governments deny that sex workers men who have sex with men drug users and transgender people exist Since no data is gathered about their needs life saving services are not funded and the lack of data reinforces the denial The Uncounted cracks open this and other data paradoxes through interviews with global health leaders and activists ethnographic research analysis of gaps in mathematical models and the author's experience as an activist and senior official It shows what is counted what is not and why empowering communities to gather their own data could be key to ending AIDS

Caribbean Region Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States
United States Department of State, 2014-11-12 The Caribbean has higher HIV rates than any region outside of sub Saharan Africa The adult HIV prevalence of 1.0 percent is almost twice that of North America 0.6 and more than twice that of Latin America 0.4 Unprotected sex between men and women especially paid sex is believed to be the main mode of HIV transmission in this region however evidence indicates that substantial transmission is also occurring among men who have sex with men In the eleven countries of the Caribbean Regional Program data is limited and prevalence rates are missing for the general population and key populations However in the countries with data prevalence rates in the general population range from a low of 1 percent in Suriname to a high of 2.8 percent in the Bahamas An estimated 60 000 people live with HIV in the eleven countries of the Caribbean Regional program The HIV epidemic varies within countries and across the region For example HIV affects young women 1.2 to 3 times more than young males in the Bahamas and Barbados while in Jamaica Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago the reverse is true Progress has been made in the general population In 2012 UNAIDS reported a decrease in the incidence of HIV infection among adults in Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago by 26.49 percent and over 50 percent in the Bahamas Barbados and Suriname During 2008-2009 mother to child transmission of HIV was reduced to the point where elimination of new HIV infections in children has become a reality There is also a decrease in the number of persons dying from AIDS related causes in three countries decrease of 25.49 percent in the Bahamas and Jamaica and by more than 50 percent in Suriname Other gains are not fully understood but may be a result of better data collection methods that now more accurately represent the true epidemic Despite these gains in the general population much work needs to be done to improve outcomes for key populations Men who have sex with men MSM and female sex workers FSW continue to be disproportionately affected MSM prevalence varies from 6.7 percent in Suriname to 32 percent in Jamaica The prevalence rates for MSM in the Caribbean are the highest documented rates in the world A comprehensive review of HIV disease burden among MSM worldwide found that pooled HIV prevalence ranged from a low of 3% in the Middle East and North Africa to a high of 25.4% of MSM in the Caribbean. Beyrer et al 2012. FSW prevalence is reported to be as high as 24 percent in Suriname. Stigma and Discrimination affect People Living with HIV/AIDS (PLHIV) and key populations in the region. Homosexuality is criminalized in ten countries in the region; the Bahamas is the only exception and life imprisonment exists in the penal code in several countries in the region.

The AIDS Pandemic Michael Merson, Stephen Inrig, 2017-09-13. This ambitious book provides a comprehensive history of the World Health Organization (WHO) Global Programme on AIDS (GPA) using it as a unique lens to trace the global response to the AIDS pandemic. The authors describe how WHO came initially to assume leadership of the global response, relate the strategies and approaches WHO employed over the years, and expound on the factors that led to the Programme's demise and subsequent formation of the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS). The authors examine the global impact of this momentous transition, portray the current status of the global response to AIDS, and explore the precarious situation that WHO finds itself in today as a lead United Nations agency in global health. Several aspects of the global response, the strategies adopted, the roads taken and not taken, and the lessons learned can provide helpful guidance to the global health community as it continues tackling the AIDS pandemic and confronts future global pandemics. Included in the coverage: The response before the global response; Building and coordinating a multi-sectoral response; Containing the global spread of HIV; Addressing stigma, discrimination, and human rights; Rethinking global AIDS governance; UNAIDS and its place in the global response. The AIDS Pandemic Searching for a Global Response recounts the global response to the AIDS pandemic from its inception to today. Policymakers, students, faculty, journalists, researchers, and health professionals interested in HIV/AIDS, global health, global pandemics, and the history of medicine will find it highly compelling and consequential. It will also interest those involved in global affairs, global governance, international relations, and international development.

Introduction to International Disaster Management Damon Coppola, 2015-01-25. Introduction to International Disaster Management Third Edition continues to serve as the leading comprehensive overview of global emergency management. This edition provides practitioners and students alike with a comprehensive understanding of the disaster management profession by utilizing a global perspective and including the different sources of risk and vulnerability, the systems that exist to manage hazard risk, and the many different stakeholders involved. This update examines the impact of many recent large-scale and catastrophic disaster events on countries and communities as well as their influence on disaster risk reduction efforts worldwide. It also expands coverage of small island developing states (SIDS) and explores the achievements of the United Nations Hyogo Framework for Action 2005-2015 and the priorities for action in the Post 2015 Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction currently under development. This useful, relevant text includes many changes that have occurred since the last edition for a better understanding of the rapidly advancing field of international disaster management. Includes updated perspectives on recent events that have shaped the direction emergency management is taking today. Examines outcomes of the Hyogo Framework for Action (HFA) decade such as insight into how disaster risk reduction has advanced globally and how it differs among countries and regions Updated statistics on disaster frequency and impact provide a better understanding about how and why risk and vulnerability are changing Presents information on multilateral emergency management agreements as well as profiles of important NGOs and international organizations Key terms and summaries are provided at the beginning of each chapter to ease student comprehension Offers customized and updated instructor materials including PowerPoint lecture slides test banks and a detailed instructor's guide

Haiti Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State,2014-11-12 For many in the United States Haiti has become synonymous with hurricanes and earthquakes whose effects are compounded by the vulnerability of the populations they strike in the Haitian countryside and the precarious hillside encampments around Port au Prince Natural disaster combined with frequent political instability and disease have continually set back Haitian efforts to chart a stable path toward social and economic renewal While there are numerous interdependent needs to break these cycles of poverty improving the health of the Haitian population is central to rebuilding the human and economic capital of one of America s closest neighbors Haiti s estimated 135 000 HIV positive individuals constitute the greatest burden of HIV AIDS care and treatment responsibility in the Caribbean region Underlying the data are geographic shifts in populations living with HIV and a need to reach key populations disproportionately affected by the virus with effective prevention programs Haiti has a generalized HIV AIDS epidemic with higher prevalence rates in major cities and driven by key populations such as commercial sex workers CSW and men who have sex with men MSM and the social conditions of women and youth As of December 2012 72 percent of HIV infected individuals with immediate need for antiretroviral therapy were receiving it and 65 percent of pregnant women were tested for HIV There is a high level of stigmatization towards HIV positive individuals in the country especially at the community level Overall communicable diseases make up a starkly higher proportion of mortality 72 percent than the regional average 20 percent Haiti has the highest rate of tuberculosis TB in the Western Hemisphere with an estimated incidence of 306 cases for 100 000 inhabitants of which about 60 percent of expected cases are detected and 60 percent of TB patients are tested for HIV Malaria prevalence is estimated at 4 9 percent More than 600 000 cases and nearly 8 000 deaths have been reported since the cholera epidemic began in Haiti

Trade Policy Review ,2019 Standard & Poor's Stock Reports ,2009-11 Central America Region Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State,2014-11-12 The Central America Region CAR is characterized by a concentrated HIV AIDS epidemic with low prevalence among the general population but high prevalence among certain subgroups such as men who have sex with men MSM transgender persons male and female sex workers SW clients of sex workers and their partners certain ethnic groups such as the Gar funa and Kuna and mobile populations According to UNAIDS in 2011 HIV prevalence in adults in CAR is highest in Belize 2 3% followed by Panama 0 8% Guatemala 0 8% El Salvador 0 6% Costa Rica 0 3% and Nicaragua 0 2% Data from Honduras from 2009 showed a HIV prevalence of 0 8% These relatively low national percentages mask the concentrated epidemic among key populations KP Belize a country which geographically politically and culturally straddles both Central America and the Caribbean is an exception with a prevalence rate above 1% but still has an epidemic driven by the same KP Data continue to demonstrate that transgender populations female sex workers FSWs and MSM are the populations with the highest HIV prevalence rates in the region Results from the most recent USG supported BSS show the prevalence for MSM is 13 85% in Belize 2012 9 9% in Honduras and 9 8% in El Salvador both across multiple cities and 7 5% in Managua Nicaragua 2009 These numbers reflect declines among MSM in all countries suggesting that condom promotion and other behavior change communication BCC prevention efforts have had a positive impact The transgender population was included separately in these studies since it is a relatively small but very high risk group The HIV prevalence rates were 19.7% and 23.3% in two major cities of El Salvador and in Nicaragua 18.8% in Managua and 14.6% in Chinandega In the same studies the prevalence rate was 5.7% among FSWs in the capital of El Salvador 2008 5.5% and 4.6% in the biggest cities of Honduras 2006 2.4% in Managua and 1.8% in Chinandega Nicaragua 2009 and 0.9% in Belize 2012 For Honduras and El Salvador these numbers represent declines in FSW prevalence which at least partially reflects USG prevention efforts focused on these populations In 2009 USG supported BSS with the Belize Defense Force showed a prevalence rate of 1.14% among military personnel The data available suggests that intravenous drug use is not a major factor in HIV transmission in the region Asia Regional Program Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States Department of State, 2014-11-12 The U.S. President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief PEPFAR Asia Regional Program ARP is a platform for technical assistance TA to national HIV/AIDS programs and their partners including other PEPFAR programs throughout Asia with a special focus on the HIV responses in China Laos and Thailand Activities in China are being included in the ARP for the first time in FY 2013 as PEPFAR's work in that country continues to evolve The unrivalled pace of development in parts of Asia is being accompanied by accelerated transmission of HIV/AIDS across borders in urbanized areas and among key populations While HIV/AIDS programs in the region have made impressive progress these gains have been uneven geographically and epidemiologically and most countries are still far from achieving universal access targets Despite substantial evidence that smart investments in HIV prevention testing care and treatment can prevent the spread of HIV among key populations critical gaps persist These gaps underscore the need to identify and implement innovative life saving approaches and practices while at the same time strengthening and increasing the coverage of effective programs that already exist and building the country capacity needed for sustainable local ownership of the HIV/AIDS response The U.S. Government USG is leading the way toward an AIDS free generation Our work on health in the region has strongly contributed to this positive impact on people around the world In FY 2013 the PEPFAR ARP will continue our efforts to help conquer this disease among vulnerable populations in the region and beyond President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief: Efforts to Align Programs with Partner Countries' HIV/AIDS Strategies and Promote Partner Country Ownership , AIDS Operational Plan Brian L. Gibson, Toronto (Ont.). Department of Public Health, Toronto (Ont.). Board of Health, 1989 AIDS Operational Plan A. S. Macpherson, Toronto (Ont.). Department of Public Health, Toronto (Ont.). Board of Health, 1988 President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief , 2009 The President's Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief PEPFAR first authorized in 2003 at 15 billion for 5 years was reauthorized in 2008 at 48 billion through 2013 PEPFAR supports HIV/AIDS prevention treatment and care services primarily in Africa as well as in Asia and the Caribbean The Office of the U.S. Global AIDS Coordinator OGAC leads implementation of PEPFAR The Department of Health and Human Services Centers for Disease Control and Prevention CDC and the U.S. Agency for International Development USAID are among PEPFAR's primary implementing agencies. In this report responding to a legislative directive, GAO examined practices used in 1) selecting organizations to implement PEPFAR activities and 2) overseeing these organizations' PEPFAR activities. GAO interviewed agency and implementing organization officials, reviewed key agency guidance, analyzed PEPFAR awards for fiscal years 2007 and 2008, and observed PEPFAR activities in Namibia, South Africa, and Zambia. GAO recommends that the Secretary of State direct OGAC to take several steps to improve specific processes for selecting PEPFAR implementing partners and strengthen oversight of PEPFAR partners.
