E-learning Archaeology H. van Londen,Marjolijn S. M. Kok,Arkadiusz Marciniak,2009

This book is a contribution to a growing body of e learning applications in archaeology and archaeological heritage Its main aim is to discuss various facets of the Leonardo da Vinci project E learning as a tool of knowledge transfer in the field of protection and management of archaeological heritage completed in the years 2007 2009 by six European partners in the context of other undertakings in distance learning solutions in archaeology over the last few years The project s explicit objective was to exchange the best practices and innovative solutions in the field of the archaeological heritage of northern Europe In particular its major purpose was to design develop test assess and implement web based training solutions in developing and upgrading vocational skills in this sector by preparing and conducting a multimedia e learning course composed of fifteen interrelated modules Furthermore the project developed and implemented new methodology including the transfer of knowledge from the conventional to the e learning format and the elaborated training methodology The book is composed of an introduction and eleven chapters Seven of them refer directly to various facets of the project such as its design methodology implementation and evaluation The remaining four contributions discuss current initiatives in implementing different distance and e learning solutions in archaeology The introductory chapter written by Mark Pluciennik debates extensively the benefits and failures of distance learning and e learning as well as pressures for convergence between them as well as between e learning and traditional learning For the author e learning is a complement mode of content delivery which in places proves to be the most efficient one However it is clear that not all learning can be done through digital presentation video or the manipulation of processed data This is especially so in the discipline such as archaeology where one has to learn a range of practical and embodied skills If we choose to implement e learning solutions however it is necessary to provide a serious structural resource and staff support being a prerequisite for supplying and maintaining high quality and up to date education The following seven papers cover various aspect of the project itself They discuss the training content as well as methodology of the course production and training In particular they refer to the models and methods of distance training and their applicability for the sector of archaeological heritage and tools used in the distance learning process use of multimedia learning management systems supporting conducting distance learning in particular the LMS LCMS system s functionality as well as details of the course s preparation and implementation and the training process An important part of the book is aimed at evaluating the course content and training process It is based upon careful and systematic questionnaires that were collected among trainees in all participating countries after the completion of the course This section contains also personal accounts of both trainers and trainees The last two papers present two ongoing e learning programme in archaeology implemented These comprise project Arkeonet conducted by the Aranzadi Science Society Spain and a Leonardo da Vinci project Archaeology and Construction Engineering Skills ACES

Developing E-learning Contents ,2006      The ASTD E-learning Handbook Allison Rossett, 2002 The entire training industry is undergoing dramatic change as training is moved out of traditional classrooms and onto the Web Training publications and conferences are now dominated by speakers writers and vendors talking about e Learning The e Learning revolution is forcing companies to spend millions on new technology and new web based courseware threatening the role of traditional classroom trainers and saving companies millions of dollars in housing and travel costs because trainees no longer need a plane ticket and 3 nights accommodation to attend a corporate training program the training can be delivered to each learner s desktop over the Web But because e Learning is still in the revolution stage there are no clear standards and models for how to create and deliver e Learning successfully Everyone is asking the same questions how does web based training fit in with traditional classroom based training What are the standards for designing high quality e Learning How much interaction with an instructor do e Learning participants need What is the role of the instructional designer in online
