New Developments in Pupil Report Cards ... National Education Association of the United States. Department of superintendence & research division,1934 Report Cards Wade H. Morris,2023-09-26 The definitive history of the report card Report cards represent more than just an account of academic standing and attendance The report card also serves as a tool of control and as a microcosm for the shifting power dynamics among teachers parents school administrators and students In Report Cards A Cultural History Wade H Morris tells the story of American education by examining the history of this unique element of student life In the nearly two hundred year evolution of the report card this relic of academic bookkeeping reflected broader trends in the United States the republican zealotry and religious fervor of the antebellum period the failed promises of postwar Reconstruction for the formerly enslaved the changing gender roles in newly urbanized cities the overreach of the Progressive child saving movement in the early twentieth century and by the 1930s the increasing faith in an academic meritocracy The use of report cards expanded with the growth of school bureaucracies becoming a tool through which administrators could surveil both student activity and teachers And by the late twentieth century even the most radical critics of numerical reporting of children have had to compromise their ideals Morris traces the evolution of how teachers students parents and administrators have historically responded to report cards From a western New York classroom teacher in the 1830s and a Georgia student in the 1870s who was born enslaved to a Colorado student incarcerated in the early 1900s and the son of Russian Jewish immigrants applying to college in the 1930s Report Cards describes how generations of people have struggled to maintain dignity within a system that reduces children to numbers on slips of paper Michigan School Moderator ,1917 Moderator-topics ,1922 Cumulative Record Card for a Public School System Earl E. Education Reform in the American States Jerry McBeath,Maria Elena Reyes,Mary Ehrlander,2008-04-01 Education Reform in the American States is a timely evaluation of the accountability movement in American public education culminating in the No Child Left Behind Act federal legislation of 2002 The authors treat the current accountability movement placing it in historical context and addressing the evolution in public education policymaking from the overwhelming emphasis on state and local discretion to increasing federal oversight and mandates related to federal funding They provide case studies of the educational accountability movements in nine states and analyze the factors and forces which explain progress in achievement levels as measured on standardized tests and the states prospects for meeting their NCLB targets The book and the individual case studies acknowledge the merits of NCLB while exposing several significant flaws and unintended harmful consequences of the act particularly its incentives for states to lower their standards in order to meet annual yearly progress targets and its threat to withdraw federal funds from districts with the highest percentage of disadvantaged students The audience for this study includes local state and federal education policy makers administrators and instructors in schools of education and other teaching programs educators and the general public A System of School Records and Reports for Smaller Cities Harry Stanley Ganders,1926 School Record ,1901 Research Bulletin National Education Association of the United States.
