Police as a Career* South African Police, 19?? Report of the Commissioner of the South African Police South African Police, 1920 Policing South Africa Gavin Cawthra, 1993 Police in Africa Jan Beek, Mirco Göpfert, Olly Owen, Johnny Steinberg, 2017-08-15 Often overlooked by journalists and scholars the police forces of the African continents are a significant and little studied phenomenon This book seeks to redress that lacuna The studies span the continent from South Africa to Sierra Leone keeping a strong ethnographic focus on police officers and their work Pamphlets on Career Opportunities South African Police, 1968 Police Work and Identity Andrew Faull, 2017-09-07 This is a book about the men and women who police contemporary South Africa Drawing on rich original ethnographical data it considers how officers make sense of their jobs and how they find meaning in their duties It demonstrates that the dynamics that lead to police abuses and scandals in transitional and neo liberalising regimes such as South Africa can be traced to the day to day experiences and ambitions of the average police officer It is about the stories they tell themselves about themselves and their social worlds and how these shape the order they produce through their work By focusing on police officers this book positions the individual in primacy over the organisation asking what policing looks like when motivated by the pursuit of ontological security in precarious contexts It acknowledges but downplays the importance of police culture in determining officers attitudes and behaviour and reminds readers that most officers lives are entangled in and shaped by a range of social political and cultural forces It suggests that a job in the South African Police Service SAPS is primarily just that a job Most officers join the organisation after other dreams have slipped beyond reach their presence in the Service being almost accidental But once employed they re write their self narratives and enact carefully choreographed performances to ease managerial and public pressure and to rationalize their coercive practices In an era where evidence and what works reigns supreme and where cop culture is often deemed a primary socializing force this book emphasises how officers personal histories ambitions and vulnerabilities remain central to how policing unfolds on the street Police book also examines the influence of the respondents race gender and supervisory status on police integrity Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology political science as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations

Symbol of prestige and success South African Police,1968 List of addresses South African Police,1971 White Paper on the Organization and Functions of the South African Police South African Police,1990 A Citizen's Guide to Crime Trends in South Africa Anine Kreigler,Mark Shaw,2016-06-05 South Africans care a lot about crime We think and worry about it plan and insure against it develop and share theories about it read about it and talk about it a lot But how much do we really know Crime statistics do not belong to the government academics specialists or the press They are ours we experience and report crimes and have a right to access and understand their official record It should not take any particular expertise to get a grasp on what we should make of the figures and graphs that the South African Police Service produces every year A Citizen s Guide to Crime Trends in South Africa provides a basis on which to understand the statistics in a manner that is accessible to everyone Each chapter challenges a set of oft repeated assumptions about how bad crime is where it occurs and who its victims are It also demonstrates how and why crime statistics need to be matched with other forms of research including criminal justice data in order to produce a fuller account of what we are faced with Annual Report of the South African Police Service South African Police Service,2001
