

WRITING

Part 1

Read the two texts below.

Write an essay comparing and evaluating the two points from both texts. Use your own words throughout as far as possible, and include your own ideas in your answers.

Write your answer in 200 – 250 words on the separate answer sheet.

Teenagers and computers

It is virtually impossible to escape the influence of the media these days, and particularly if you are a teenager with access not just to television and radio, but also the Internet. At all times of the day and night, advertisers look upon teenagers as a target group whose tastes and needs are bound to be matched by them through their advertisements. Advertisers and marketing people have become adept at reaching the teenage mind, making young people believe that they need to own certain items in order to be accepted by their peer group, or simply to look cool.

Teenagers: a driving force

Advertising responds to young people's delight in what is new by developing sophisticated and innovative, often humorous advertisements which can be seen on television and cinema screens and on billboards around our towns and cities. The tastes of this generation of young people have had an impact on advertisers worldwide. However, it is the energy of the young, above all, that has influenced the world of marketing and has kept it on the move, pushing the creative boundaries to become almost an art form. That is the power of young people.

Part 2

Write an answer to one of the questions 2 – 5 in this part. Write your answer in 200 – 250 words in an appropriate style on the separate answer sheet. Put the question number in the box at the top of the answer sheet.

2 A local magazine is publishing a series of reports of amusement parks. You decide to send it a review of an amusement park you have visited which included information about its rides, restaurants, games, a 3-D cinema and a boating lake. You should briefly describe two or three of the attractions and evaluate the contribution that amusement parks can make to the quality of life for local residents.

Write your answer

3 An international media magazine is investigating how television covers important national events such as sporting events or anniversaries. You have been asked to write a report on how television in your country covered such a big national event. Your report should briefly describe the event, assess the quality of the coverage and explain the extent to which you think it helped create a mood of national celebration.

Write your report

4 You have recently read an article in a popular magazine describing the experiences of young people who have participated in voluntary projects to help disadvantaged communities. You decide to write a letter to the magazine in which you briefly describe one or two areas of your own local voluntary projects. You should also assess the ways in which such experiences can change attitudes and inspire young people in their future lives.

Write your letter

5a) Many farmers are now dependent on government subsidies to live.

A friend has written my letter. Write it in line with the text because the address has priority. Write it in line with the text because the subject is writing.

Write an essay for your English-essay class. You should evaluate the extent to which you agree with the judgement of the relationship between the text and the main idea. Write your answer in line with the text because the subject is writing.

Write your essay

5b) Many farmers are now dependent on government subsidies to live.

The English text class is which you believe has asked members to write reports on books with interesting titles. You decide to write about the American Dream of (the text) 'The Great Gatsby'. Write the story, explain the significance of the title and assess how far the text successfully conveys what the story is about.
